MOJO and the Bayou Gypsies
Performing all-American roots music and stories in the Cajun tradition, Mojo and his band are masters of the Zydeco music of southwest Louisiana.

Eric Bibb String Band
Grammy nominated Blues singer and guitarist Eric Bibb, with Dirk Powell, Cedric Watson and Grant Dermody, provides an enriching musical and spiritual experience, drawing listeners into the moment more as participants than spectators.

Della Mae
This multi-talented female combo creates vibrantly original music that captures their creative chemistry and spontaneous moments of inspiration.

Omar Sosa
Combining the folkloric with the contemporary and the ancestral with the urban, Sosa in his arrangements brilliantly fuses African and Latin music with Jazz elements.

Dali Quartet
With an artist’s grace and a Caribbean soul, this exciting quartet is today’s freshest voice in Classical and Latin American music.

Kiran Ahluwalia
Trained in Indian classical music, this acclaimed vocalist and her band create their own unique style which blends Indian, western jazz and the hypnotic sounds of the Sahara desert.

These events begin at 8:00pm and are open to the public without charge.
Michal Hingson, author of Thunder Dog, will deliver his talk, "Beyond the Labels: Celebrating the Power of Stories About Our Differences," in D. Weatherford, Jr. Campus Christian Center (CCC).

Dr. Theda Skocpol, professor of government at Harvard University, will present a talk, "Waking Up to the Power of Sleep: Causes and Consequences of Sleep Loss in College Students," at the Hutchins Library.

Dr. Gyude Moore, minister of Public Works, will discuss "Arab Identity and the Arts: Diaspora and Outreach" in Stephenson Memorial Concert.

Dr. Sonia Shah, professor of environmental studies at George Washington University, will discuss her book, "World’s Poorest Patients," at the Hutchins Library.

Dr. David Gardner, author of "The Personal MBA," will discuss "Eight Foolish Thoughts on Investing, Business and Life" at the Hutchins Library.

Eric Bibb String Band, a Delta Blues musician with a powerful voice, will perform at the Hutchins Library.

Rita Furlong, a psychology professor at Illinois Wesleyan University, will discuss "Some people are visibly different: The lived experience of encountering others with an intellectual disability," in Stephenson Memorial Concert.

Gyudef Moore (guitar/fiddle/accordion), Cedric Watson (accordion/fiddle), and Grant Dermody (guitar) will perform at the Hutchins Library.

Collaborators have gained by studying apes, monkeys, and dogs. She will conclude her presentation with a discussion about how we can use insights from Comparative Psychology to improve the lives of animals around us. Michael Hingson, author of Thunder Dog, will deliver his talk, "Beyond the Labels: Celebrating the Power of Stories About Our Differences," in D. Weatherford, Jr. Campus Christian Center (CCC).

At the center of Kiran Ahluwalia’s music is love in all its shades—from yearning romantic love to Sufi mysticism. She is a modern proponent of the great vocal traditions of India and Pakistan, which she honors deeply while exploring bold new territories. She will be joined by Erik Dowling (guitar), Gabri Wu (vocal), and Ganshun Deva (harmonica).

Dr. John Agnew, a political sociologist, will discuss "Of Stickers and Margins: Courage in the Face of Radical Evil" in Stephenson Memorial Concert.

Dr. Stacy Malkin, co-founder of the national campaign for Safe Cosmetics, which leads the movement to ban chemicals in personal care products, will discuss her talk, "The Truth about Everyday personal care products. Co-sponsored with Sustainability and Environmental Studies.

Dr. Sonia Shah will discuss her book, "World’s Poorest Patients," at Berea College Bluegrass Ensemble.

Dr. David Gardner, author of "The Personal MBA," will discuss "Eight Foolish Thoughts on Investing, Business and Life" at the Hutchins Library.

Dr. Gyude Moore (guitar/fiddle/accordion), Cedric Watson (accordion/fiddle), and Grant Dermody (guitar) will perform at the Hutchins Library.