

African and African American Studies

AFR 132 Introduction to Race in America (SOC)

Prerequisite: Completion or waiver of MAT 010

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

In America's last five centuries, the concept of race changed from a literary meaning about the race of humankind, toward popular folkways of seeing, describing, and categorizing individuals and groups based on pseudo-scientific explanations of physical and cultural traits associated with groups from various nations and regions. This course allows us to examine social patterns of these interracial and interethnic encounters and to analyze sociologically factors that help to maintain or change the domination or subordination established among the groups in our contemporary American society. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

AFR 135 African-American Women Writers (ENG/WST)

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

How have African-American women writers coped with invisibility? How have they emerged from silence and created visions of identity and culture? This course will examine the writings of African-American women as a separate and distinct cultural group and the ways in which their writing is an expression of the culture and a historical record of its development. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

AFR 138 Black Music Ensemble (MUS 135)

Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Open to all Berea students, this ensemble specializes in the performance of African-American sacred music, particularly spirituals and gospel music. The ensemble meets twice weekly for one-and-one-half hours. Regular attendance is required at all rehearsals and performances including annual Fall and Spring concerts, as well as several other programs each term. Membership by permission of instructor after audition. May be repeated for credit. Course Fee: $15 (for transportation and robe cleaning). 1/4 Course

AFR 141 African-American Literature (ENG)

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2008)

Representative selections from fiction, poetry, and nonfiction prose of African-American authors from slavery to the present. Focus on historical and social conditions reflected in the works and relationships between African-American literature and other American literary movements. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective and Arts Perspective. 1 Course

AFR 165 Intro to African-American History (HIS)

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms (this year, offered Fall 2008 only. as an exception)

This course surveys the formation of African American cultural identity from the early National period to the present. This course will touch upon major formative events in African American history: slavery, the early formation of African American cultural institutions, the reconstruction of African American life after slavery, northern migration during the World Wars, the civil rights and black power movements of the 1950s and 1960s, and urbanization and class structure in the 1980s and 1990s. Western History Perspective and African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

AFR 202 Women and African Americans in Politics (PSC/WST)

Prerequisite: GSTR 210

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2008)

A study of the participation of women and African Americans in the American political process. Theories of representative democracy and an introduction to the historical struggles for equal rights provide a context for the investigation of contemporary electoral politics, governance, grassroots politics, and public policy. Students examine the progress of women and African American candidates, and of related public policy issues, throughout the current election and its immediate aftermath. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. NOTE: In order to receive African and African American Studies or Women's Studies major or minor credit, the student's major project must focus on African Americans or women respectively. 1 Course

AFR 212 Literature of Caribbean Women (ENG/WST)

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Spring 2010)

This course is an exploration of voices of women in the Caribbean. We will read works by writers from the Anglo-Caribbean, French Caribbean, and Hispanic Caribbean. These writers represent the islands of Jamaica, Cuba, Guadelupe, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, and Barbados. Their works investigate issues of racial configuration, relationships between women, politics, colonialism and post-colonialism, and the creation of the island space. We will look at the long, turbulent history of the island of Hispaniola from the perspective of both the Haitian and Dominican, the complex history of each of these island nations, and other important topics. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective and World Culture (Non-Western) component of the International Perspective. NOTE: Noncredit for students who took this course as GSTR 209. 1 Course 1 to 3 Courses

AFR 222 Introduction to African-American Studies

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Spring 2009)

With an emphasis on the humanities and social sciences, this interdisciplinary course provides an opportunity for students to evaluate the historical contributions and contemporary status of African-Americans. Beginning with an historical overview, the course surveys the following topics: social institutions, creative productions, political economy and social class, personal identity and ethnicity, and contemporary status. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

AFR 225 Environmental Justice (APS/PSJ/SENS/WST)

Offered: Typically alternate years (first offered Spring 2009)

This course is an introduction to the study of Environmental Justice and issues associated with access to, and equitable sharing of, the products of a healthy environment, including clean water and air, healthy food, non-toxic communities, and environmental security. The history of the environmental-justice movement beginning with its foundations in the Civil Rights and Environmental movements will be studied, followed by a survey and analysis of current issues of environmental justice, particularly in relation to minority and poor communities in the United States and worldwide. Emphasis is placed on the role of women and African Americans as participants in the environmental-justice movement, and the analysis of environmental-justice issues in Appalachia. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. NOTE: Noncredit for students who took SENS 460 in Fall 2005 or Fall 2006. 1 Course

AFR 230 African Americans in Appalachia (APS)

Prerequisite: GSTR 110

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2008)

This course explores the social, political, economic, and cultural experiences of African Americans in Southern Appalachia from the beginning of European settlement to the contemporary era. The course engages students in developing an understanding of the historical experiences of African Americans in Appalachia, the discussion of issues such as the images and stereotypes of Appalachians and African Americans, and the examination of migratory patterns, education, labor organization, and religion. The course places special emphasis upon the interaction and convergence of a distinctly Appalachian experience among African Americans from the region. The course studies traditional themes in Appalachian Studies within the context of African American racial experiences. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

AFR 231 African American Religious Traditions

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Spring 2009)

An introduction to religious traditions within the African American community. Presents overviews and analyses of these traditions from their African root to the present. Particular attention is given to the development of thought, ethics, and theology for survival, nurturing, and "meaning-making" that African American religious communities pass down from generation to generation. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

AFR 234 African-American Music: An Overview (MUS)

Prerequisite: GSTR 110

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

The study of African-American music and musicians within the general framework of American society, tracing the development of the music from its African origins to its impact upon and fusion with American music and culture. Although the main focus will be placed upon music indigenous to African-American culture, study will encompass significant African-American musicians in the European classical music tradition. Arts Perspective and African Americans', Appalachians', Women's Perspective. 1 Course

AFR 260 Survey of African History (HIS)

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

A survey of African history from the ancient period to the late 20th century. Although the major concentration is upon "Sub-Saharan Africa" and the effects of the enslavement trade and colonialism, the course does provide a brief discussion of significant continent wide highlights from the ancient and medieval periods. The history of Africa's independence movements and the post-independence era also are addressed. World Culture (Non-Western) component of the International Perspective. 1 Course

AFR 270 Sub-Saharan Black African Art (ART)

Prerequisite: GSTR 210

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

An art and cultural study of the sculptural and architectural traditions of the peoples of West and Central Africa. Arts Perspective and World Culture (Non-Western) component of the International Perspective. 1 Course

AFR 356 Seminar in African-American History (HIS)

Prerequisites: HIS 161 and 162; or AFR/HIS 165

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Spring 2009)

Through examination of a key period in African American history, students will develop a deeper appreciation of this history and a better understanding of sources and methodologies historians use to analyze past human experiences. By reading key primary and secondary materials, students will develop an understanding of the way cultural, social, economic, and political issues interact to shape the period.

May be repeated for credit, provided the topic differs from that previously studied. NOTE: Certain sections of this course may be approved to meet Perspective Areas in the General Education Program. Check the Schedule of Courses for term-specific information. 1 Course

AFR 186/286/386/486 Special Topics

Prerequisites: Determined by instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See p. 51 of this Catalog. 1/2 or 1 Course

AFR 390/490A or B Independent Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 390; senior standing for 490

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See pp. 51-52 of this Catalog. 1 Course

AFR 395/495 Internship

Prerequisite: Sophomore, junior, or senior standing

Offered: Typically every term

See p. 52 of this Catalog.

Agriculture and Natural Resources

ANR 100 Intro to Agriculture and Natural Resources

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

An overview of ecological production systems managed to generate food, fiber, fuel, and other natural resources for human use and the academic disciplines associated with them. The course will survey the diverse natural-resource systems upon which we depend but will emphasize biological systems managed for the production of renewable resources. Historical and current understandings of emphasis sustainable resource use will be examined and applied to evaluate local, national, and international issues confronting human society today. Students will be introduced to the fields of agriculture, forestry, and wildlife and fisheries management, and have the opportunity to explore careers in these areas. This course should be taken during the first term by all students intending to major or minor in Agriculture and Natural Resources and by any students interested in exploring the major. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed ANR 101 or ANR 106. 1/2 Course

ANR 103 The Science of Food Systems (CFS)

Prerequisite: Completion or waiver of MAT 012

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2009)

A study of the production of food from the farm to the table, emphasizing the environmental and economic sustainability of various systems of food production. Includes the science of soil management, systems of crop and livestock management in the production of foodstuff, food chemistry, food safety, and human nutrition. Laboratory experiences and field trips will be included. 1 Course

ANR 110 Animal Science

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

Introduction to the fundamental principles of animal science. Emphasis on breeding, nutrition, management, and marketing of domestic animals. The role of genetics, health, and reproductive management on the productivity of various species will be investigated. Three lectures and one laboratory session each week. 1 Course

ANR 130 Plant Science

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

This course is designed to develop an understanding of the processes and factors affecting plant growth and development. Biological, soil, genetic, and environmental factors are in relation to agronomic, horticultural, and forest plants. Principles of crop production and management are introduced with an agroecology and sustainable practices. Three lectures laboratory session each week. 1 Course

ANR 240 Soil Science

Prerequisite: ANR 130 or BIO 114 (formerly B10 314)

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

An applied study of physical, chemical, and biological properties of soils, emphasizing an ecological approach to management in a variety of contexts including field crops, horticultural crops, forests, and urban environments. This course covers soil formation and classification; fertility for plant nutrition; energy, water, and nutrient cycling; soil degradation and conservation; and soil-quality testing. Students conduct field and laboratory analyses, group and individual research projects, and reviews of the soil-science literature. Three lectures and one laboratory session each week. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed ANR 340. 1 Course

ANR 265 Bees and Beekeeping

Prerequisite: Any ANR or BIO course; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

An introduction to honeybee biology and the practice of beekeeping, also known as apiculture. Students will learn how an understanding of bee biology, generated through observation and experimentation, has been applied to develop methods-simple as well as intricate-to manage honeybee colonies for various purposes, such as honey and wax production and crop pollination. Topics covered will include honeybee biology (anatomy, physiology, behavior, ecology, and taxonomy), crop pollination, and beekeeping (historical and current practices). Students will gain practical experience by working with hives, assessing hive conditions, diagnosing problems, and making management decisions. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed ANR 365. 1 Course

ANR 310 Nutritional Studies

Prerequisites: ANR 110 or BIO 110; and CHM 131 (formerly 121), CHM 134 (formerly 124), or CHM 113; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

Basic processes of digestion, absorption, and metabolism of nutrients. Emphasis is on feedstuff selection and analysis, animal and human nutrient needs, and ration formulation and dietary analysis for a wide variety of species. Three lectures and one laboratory session each week. 1 Course

ANR 312 Advanced Livestock Systems

Prerequisite: ANR 110 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

An investigation into current knowledge and applied concepts in the production of livestock. Includes reviews of research in breeding, nutrition, reproduction, and economics. Emphasis on applied management skills, including health and reproductive- management techniques, feed analysis, cost accounting, and marketing. Three lectures and one laboratory session each week. May be repeated for up to two credits. 1 Course

ANR 320 Animal Diseases

Prerequisite: ANR 110 or BIO 110

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2010)

Causes, symptoms, treatments, and diagnoses of animal diseases with emphasis on prevention and control. Three lectures and one laboratory each week. 1 Course

ANR 324 Nutritional Physiology and Biochemistry

Prerequisite: CHM 113,131 (formerly 121), or 134 (formerly 124); or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2008)

The physiological chemistry of animal nutrition, measurement of the body needs and feed value, the nutritive requirements for body processes, and productive functions. Three lectures and one laboratory session each week. 1 Course

ANR 325 Animal Reproduction and Breeding

Prerequisite: ANR 110 or BIO 110, or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2009)

Physiological processes of reproduction, including gonadal function, endocrine relationships, fertility, and factors affecting reproductive efficiency. In addition, the course covers the application of genetics to the improvement of farm animals. Both qualitative and quantitative genetics will be stressed. Three lectures and one laboratory session each week. 1 Course

ANR 330 Forage and Row Crop Production

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2008)

This course is designed to develop an understanding of the biology, management, and uses of major crop plants. Interactions between cropping systems and the larger ecosystem will be discussed. Soil, genetic, and environmental factors will be related to crop management, yield, and quality, with emphasis on sustainable practices and planning sustainable systems. Both regionally and nationally important crop species will be discussed. Three lectures and one laboratory session each week. 1 Course

ANR 342 Soil and Water Conservation

Prerequisite: ANR 240 (formerly ANR 340) or permission of instructor

This course examines hazards, measurements, causes, and solutions for erosion, sedimentation, and pollution of soils, surface, and groundwater. The primary perspective will be agricultural, but issues related to urban development, engineering, mining, and other land uses also will be discussed. Linkages between soil and water resources and environmental quality will be emphasized. Appalachian examples will be used as models whenever possible. Three lectures and one laboratory session each week. 1 Course

ANR 350 Horticulture

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2010)

This course covers plant propagation, soil and pest management, harvesting, storage, processing, and marketing methods for vegetables, fruits, herbs, and flowers. This course takes an agroecological approach to production and management and emphasizes methods appropriate for home gardens and small farms. A diverse array of field and greenhouse practices and systems are examined and evaluated within the context of sustainability. Three lectures and one laboratory session each week. 1 Course

ANR 360 Forest and Wildlife Management

Prerequisite: ANR 130 or ANR 110 or BIO 110

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

Course integrates ecological, economic, philosophical, and historical aspects of forest and wildlife management. Students learn the theoretical and practical elements of modern natural-resource management, such as species identification, site preparation and planting, habitat conservation, field sampling, biological monitoring, and harvesting. Local, regional, and global topics are covered, including the role of forests in global ecological processes, conservation of biodiversity, ecological economics, and the sustainability of forest and wildlife uses. Three lectures and one laboratory session each week. 1 Course

ANR 375 Farm Resource Management

Prerequisite: ECO 102

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

Course emphasizes the linkages between the physical production systems and the economic and business systems used in the food and fiber industries. In addition, the social aspects of management and decision making will be addressed. Particular emphasis will be placed on organization and use of resources in a farm business. Includes investigation into the many off-farm factors that influence on-farm decisions. Three lectures and one laboratory session each week. 1 Course

ANR 389/089 Study Tour of Agriculture and Related Activities

Prerequisites for credit: Junior standing and one course each in Animal Science, Plant Science, and Economics

Offered: Not offered on a regular basis

Two- or three-week summer tour of selected major agricultural areas. Opportunities for observation of types of farming, associated technologies, and natural-resource endowments. Visits to supply, marketing, and processing plants. Tour preceded by 12 to 18 hours of preparatory sessions during the Spring Term, followed by 3 to 6 hours of summarizing sessions. Taken as 389 for 1/2 or 1 credit or as 089 for noncredit. Written report required for credit. Noncredit, 1/2, or 1 Course

ANR 186/286/386/486 Special Topics

Prerequisites: Determined by instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See p. 51 of this Catalog. 1/2 or 1 Course

ANR 390/490A or 8 Independent Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 390; senior standing for 490

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

ANR 492 Senior Seminar Course

Prerequisites: At least two ANR 300-level electives and senior standing

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

An interdisciplinary capstone course in which students integrate the knowledge they have gained during their undergraduate education in both the general and agricultural and natural resource discipline areas.

Students will work with the guidance of individual faculty members to research, develop, and complete a project that reflects professional-level understanding of their discipline, as well as the ability to effectively communicate through oral and written presentations. Students will be able to select a business or a research emphasis for their project. 1/2 Course

ANR 494 Labor/Field Learning Experience

Prerequisite: Permission of the Department Chairperson

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

Labor/Learning experience that may be completed through an experience with selected on- or off-campus agencies under the direction of a staff member in the Agriculture and Natural Resources Department. Successful completion of ANR 395/495 or 140 hours in an approved labor position may satisfy this requirement. NOTE: Should be taken prior to the senior year. Noncredit Course

ANR 395/495 Internship

Offered: Typically every term

See p. 52 of this Catalog. 1 to 3 Courses

ANR 397/497A or 8 Team Initiated Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 397; senior standing for 497

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See pp. 5J-52 of this Catalog. 1 Course

ANR 398/498 Directed Study

Prerequisites: Will vary, but always will include permission of instructor

Offered: Typically on a limited basis as student interest and faculty availability allow

See p. 52 of this Catalog. 1 Course

Appalachian Studies

APS 121 Appalachian Culture

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

A study designed to give Appalachian students an opportunity to establish their own identity and give others a base for understanding Appalachian people, by exploring the values, attitudes, strengths, and problems of Appalachian people. This course also is aimed at providing a foundation for further study and involvement in Appalachia. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. I Course

APS 140 Appalachian Literature (ENG)

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2009)

Study of poetry, fiction, and oral literature of the region. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

APS 210 Health in Appalachia (HLT)

Prerequisites: PEH 100 or permission; and GSTR 110

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Spring 2009)

This course explores various dimensions of the environment that impact the health of individuals and the communities in which they live within the Appalachian region. Topics addressed include: education, religion, industrialization, economic development, access to health care, sexuality, domestic violence, race and ethnicity, and substance abuse. This class is designed for the non-professional interested in the health needs of all people living in the Appalachian region and will include directed readings, lectures, discussions, films, guest speakers, and field trips. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

APS 213 Appalachian Crafts (TEC)

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008 and Spring 2009, as an exception)

A laboratory course involving work in various craft media including metal, wood, textiles, ceramics, and various native Appalachian materials. Through these various craft media, the culture of the Appalachian people will be examined focusing on factors affecting the life and work of the Appalachian craftspeople, including aesthetics versus function, advancing technology, and outside influences. Through skill development, students will gain insight into the problem-solving ability, lifestyle, and ingenuity of the Appalachian people. Opportunities will be given for in-depth study and skill development. Arts Perspective and African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

APS 215 Sustainable Appalachian Communities (SENS)

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

An introduction to the concept of sustainability as applied to communities in the Appalachian region. Ecological, social, and economic characteristics of Appalachia are reviewed as a context for case studies of communities within the region. A variety of approaches to sustainable development are explored. Students learn techniques for evaluating community sustainability, and participate in a service-learning or community-based research project that assists a local community to become more sustainable. African Americans', Appalachians', Women's Studies Perspective. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed GST/SENS 210. 1 Course

APS 220 Gender in Appalachia (WST)

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (first offered 2009-2010)

An interdisciplinary exploration of gender and its impact on the Appalachian region. Proceeding from the assumption that cultural constructions of sex, sexuality, and gender are basic to our understandings of the world, we will investigate such topics as family and community; intimacy, violence, and power; health and reproduction; home and work; religion and spirituality; masculinity and femininity; activism and resistance in Appalachia. The diversity of Appalachian experiences will be explored through fiction and non-fiction readings, films, and discussion. 1 Course

APS 224 Appalachian Music (MUS)

An introduction to the music that has been, and is, an important part of the culture of the Southern Appalachian region. Specific musical elements will be discussed in relation to ballads and songs, instrumental music, bluegrass, country, and various types of religious music. The importance of the region's music and musicians in the development of country and popular music in America is treated. Three periods per week. Arts Perspective and African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

APS 225 Environmental Justice (AFR/PSJ/SENS/WST)

Offered: Typically alternate years (first offered Spring 2009)

This course is an introduction to the study of Environmental Justice and issues associated with access to, and equitable sharing of, the products of a healthy environment, including clean water and air, healthy food, non-toxic communities, and environmental security. The history of the environmental-justice movement beginning with its foundations in the Civil Rights and Environmental movements will be studied, followed by a survey and analysis of current issues of environmental justice, particularly in relation to minority and poor communities in the United States and worldwide. Emphasis is placed on the role of women and African Americans as participants in the environmental-justice movement, and the analysis of environmental-justice issues in Appalachia. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. NOTE: Noncredit for students who took SENS 460 in Fall 2005 or Fall 2006. 1 Course

APS 229 Contemporary Issues in Appalachia

Prerequisite: GSTR 110

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Spring 2009)

Exploration of an issue (or issues) central to contemporary Appalachia and diverse responses that address the issue(s). African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

APS 230 African Americans in Appalachia (AFR)

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2008)

This course explores the social, political, economic, and cultural experiences of African Americans in Southern Appalachia from the beginning of European settlement to the contemporary era. The course engages students in developing an understanding of the historical experiences of African Americans in Appalachia, the discussion of issues such as the images and stereotypes of Appalachians and African Americans, and the examination of migratory patterns, education, labor organization, and religion. The course places special emphasis upon the interaction and convergence of a distinctly Appalachian experience among African Americans from the region. The course studies traditional themes in Appalachian Studies within the context of African American racial experiences. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

APS 236 Folk Arts as a Cultural Expression

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow.

A study of traditional folk arts in a cultural setting, with particular attention to Appalachian traditions and their importance in the lives of people. The Appalachian arts of storytelling, folk singing, folk dancing, and handcrafting will be explored. An experience in each art will be arranged, the major contributors to the recent evolution in folk arts will be studied, and the potential of folk arts in modern society will be examined. 1 Course

APS 253 Appalachian America (HIS)

Prerequisite: GSTR 110

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

A broad survey of the history of the Appalachian region. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

APS 330 Community Analysis: The Appalachian Case (SOC)

Prerequisite: One introductory ECO, HIS, PSC or SOC course

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (next offered Spring 2009)

This course is a study of the history, demography, social structure, and forces promoting social change in the Appalachian rural community. The student will learn a sociological approach to understanding the concept of community, its various systems, institutions, and groups. A community problem-analysis orientation will be followed. While studying the community in Appalachia, other community studies-- American, European, and Third World--will be examined for comparative purposes, looking at content and method. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

Art

ART 110 Design

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Two-dimensional and three dimensional organizational problems involving the varied aspects of form and structure. Several different materials will be used to heighten awareness of process and imagination. Six studio hours each week. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 111 Printmaking I

This course is an introduction to techniques and problem solving. A study of printmaking through intaglio and relief techniques, including etching and linoleum cut. Six in-class studio hours each week. Arts Perspective. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 115 Drawing Fundamentals

This course is an introduction to drawing, stressing observation and recording. A broad range of techniques and materials are presented. Three two-hour studio periods each week. Arts Perspective. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 116 Painting I

This course is an introductory studio experience that explores media and practice. Student understanding will expand and propel learning as a modern media-acrylic paint on board or canvas-is employed. Using paint in a structured sequence, students will acquire essential skills and methods of problem-solving and critical analysis, as well as verbal articulation of goals, means, and outcomes. Study of historical and contemporary paintings will provide information, influence, and inspiration. Arts Perspective. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 120 Survey of Western Art History I: Ancient through Medieval Art

A chronological consideration of the visual arts from pre-historic through Medieval times. Major developments in periods, styles, and artists will be discussed relative to time, place, and context. NOTE: Students who have previously completed ART 120, or who completed this course as ART 186 in 2007-2008 or 2008-2009, may repeat this course with permission of the instructor. 1 Course

ART 122 Ceramic Production

Prerequisites: Labor position in the Ceramic Apprenticeship Program and permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

A study of the specific problems encountered when designing and executing a repetitive form. Emphasis on development of design for functional forms produced in coordination with the Ceramic Apprenticeship Program. Six studio hours each week. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. (May not be repeated for credit.) NOTE: This course is noncredit for students who took Ceramic Production I or II, formerly ART 121 and 122, respectively). 1 Course

ART 123 Ceramics I

An introductory studio experience with the medium of clay, including ceramic forming, glazing, and firing. Ceramic techniques will be studied, along with current art/craft theory and ceramic history. Six in-class studio hours each week. Arts Perspective. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 124 Survey of Western Art History II: Renaissance through Modern Art

A chronological consideration of the visual arts from Renaissance through Modern times. Major developments in periods, styles, and artists will be discussed relative to time, place, and context. NOTE: Students who have previously completed ART 120, ART 124, or who completed this course as ART 186 in 2007-2008 or 2008-2009, may repeat this course with permission of the instructor. 1 Course

ART 125 Fibers I

An introductory studio experience exploring the techniques and expressive possibilities of the fibers medium through four-harness loom weaving (loom controlled and tapestry), embroidery, 3-D forms created through coiling and twining, and direct application surface design and resists with dyes. Fiber art will be studied with consideration given to the history of textiles and current artists and theories. Six in-class studio hours each week. Arts Perspective. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 130 Sculpture I

This course is an introduction to techniques and problem solving. A study of sculpture through direct and indirect techniques including casting and carving. Six in-class studio hours each week. Arts Perspective. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 205 Life Drawing

Prerequisite: ART 115 with a grade of C or higher; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term (next offered term yet to be determined)

A rigorous and disciplined approach to the accurate depiction of the human figure, with work in various drawing media and size formats. Two studio periods each week will consist of drawing for accuracy from the human model, with one session each week consisting of critiquing homework figure-drawing assignments and selected in-class figure drawings. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 211 Printmaking II

Prerequisites: ART 110, with a grade of C or higher, and ART III; or permission of instructor

This course will present additional techniques not offered in ART III and introduces conceptually based problem solving. Students will employ intaglio and relief techniques, including dry point and woodcut. Six in-class studio hours each week. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 216 Painting II

Prerequisites: ART 110 and ART 115 with grades of C or higher; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

This course will present additional techniques not offered in ART 116 and introduce conceptually based problem solving. Six in-class studio hours each week. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 223 Ceramics II

Prerequisites: ART 110 and ART 123 with grades of C or higher; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

An expanded study of ceramic forming, glazing, and firing techniques through an introduction of conceptually based problem-solving assignments. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 225 Fibers II

Prerequisites: ART 110 and ART 125 with grades of C or higher; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term (offered Fall 2008 instead, as an exception)

This course will expand on the fibers processes and materials used in ART 125 and introduce the student to conceptual problem solving using the Fibers medium. The first part of the class will be learning construction and surface techniques. The second part of the class will focus on using multiple fiber techniques as a means of personal expression, emphasizing the idea and its expression. Readings, textiles from the collection, and slide presentations will give the student a basic exposure to the history of textiles and current events and thoughts in Fiber Arts. Six in-class studio hours per week. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 230 Sculpture II

Prerequisites: ART 110 and ART 130, with grades of C or higher; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

This course will present additional techniques and materials not offered in ART 130 and introduces conceptually based problem solving. Students will employ direct and indirect techniques, including welding and foundry casting. Six in-class studio hours each week. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 236 Foundations of Art Education

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2008)

Designed for the Art major preparing to teach at the secondary level and/or the elementary level. This course meets K-12 certification requirements. Art majors planning careers in occupational therapy, special education, or community art programs also would benefit from this course. Lecture-studio experiences in creative methods of teaching the visual arts, materials, techniques, concepts, and the relation of art to the needs of different age levels; and trends and philosophies of Art Education. Public-school observation and practicum required. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 242 Medieval Art

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Spring 2010)

A survey of Medieval art in the West and the East from the early Christian period just prior to the advent of Constantine through the end of the French Gothic period and the Byzantine Empire. Arts Perspective and Western History Perspective. 1 Course

ART 245 19th and 20th Century Art

Prerequisite: For Art majors, ART 120 with a grade of C or higher; or permission of instructor

Nineteenth-century revolutions in art (painting, sculpture, architecture) and their impact on 20th-century art. Students will study the interaction between the arts in the contemporary world and other forces shaping today's society. 1 Course

ART 246 Modern Architecture

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered term yet to be determined).

The development and styles of European and American architecture. Emphasis will be given to revival and archaeological influences, technology and new materials, and society and personalities during the 19th and 20th centuries. Arts Perspective and Western History Perspective. 1 Course

ART 248 Islamic Art and Architecture (AST)

Prerequisites: GSTR 210

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2009)

A study of Islamic art and architecture in the Middle East, North Africa, and Spain. Arts Perspective and Religion Perspective. 1 Course

ART 250 Indian and Southeast Asian Art History (AST)

A survey of the religious art (Buddhist, Dravidian, Hindu, Islamic, Jain) of India and Southeast Asia. Arts Perspective and Religion Perspective. 1 Course

ART 262 Italian Renaissance Art

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered term yet to be determined)

A study of the arts of Italy from 1401 to 1564 and the personalities, the social and political events, and the philosophies that interacted, shaped, and helped create them. Arts Perspective and Western History Perspective. 1 Course

ART 263 Introduction to Museum Work

Prerequisite: GSTR 210 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate years (first offered Fall 2009)

This course will look at the role of the Museum from its historical and theoretical beginnings to the challenges facing the field in the 21st Century. Interdisciplinary in nature, this course incorporates hands-on experiences in the College's art and historical artifacts collections. Course Fee: $15. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed this course as ART 286 in Fall 2007. 1 Course

ART 267 Colonial and Modern Latin American Art

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2008)

The art and architecture of Mexico, Central America, and South America from the 16th century to modern times examining the impact of Western colonialism. Arts Perspective and World Culture (Western) component of the International Perspective. 1 Course

ART 270 Sub-Saharan Black African Art (AFR)

Prerequisite: GSTR 210

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

An art and cultural study of the sculptural and architectural traditions of the peoples of West and Central Africa. Arts Perspective and a World Culture (Non-Western) component of the International Perspective. 1 Course

ART 275 Pre-Columbian Latin American Art ,

Prerequisite: GSTR 210

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Spring 2009)

The art, architecture, and culture of Mexico, Central America, and Western South America from pre-Columbian to modern times. Arts Perspective. 1 Course

ART 311 Printmaking 111

Prerequisite: ART 211 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

This course will present advanced techniques and require students to concentrate on a single media area. In consultation with the instructor, students will work using personally derived concepts and objectives. Six in-class studio hours each week. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 316 Painting 111

Prerequisite: ART 2/6 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

This course will present advanced techniques and require students to concentrate on a single media area. In consultation with the instructor, students will work using personally derived concepts and objectives. Six in-class studio hours each week. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 323 Ceramics 111

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

An advanced study of ceramics including forming, glazing, and firing techniques, in the context of personally derived conceptual objectives. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 325 Fibers III

Offered: Typically every Spring Term (also offered Fall 2008, as an exception)

The primary purpose of this course is to provide structured time, guidance, and feedback to students who have chosen to focus in fibers. Over the course of the term, students are expected to expand their visual vocabulary with advanced techniques that focus in a specific area within the fibers medium, to explore the history of fibers, and to produce personally derived conceptual work. Projects will be student directed with instructor guidance and should be designed to encourage growth, individual expression, and independent learning. Students also are expected to continue experimenting by continuing to build a vocabulary of materials and processes. Six in-class studio hours each week. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 330 Sculpture III

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (next offered Fall 2008)

This course will present advanced techniques and require students to concentrate on a single media area. In consultation with the instructor, students will work using personally derived concepts and objectives. Six in-class studio hours each week. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 411 Printmaking IV

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

This course requires students to concentrate on producing a conceptually directed independent body of work aimed at the senior exhibition. Six in-class studio hours each week. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 416 Painting IV

Prerequisite: ART 316 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Fall and Spring term

This course requires students to concentrate on producing a conceptually directed independent body of work aimed at the senior exhibition. Six in-class studio hours each week. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 423 Ceramics IV

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

An advanced study of ceramics focusing on the production of a conceptually based independent body of work. This work may become the basis for the student's senior exhibition. Six in-class hours each week. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 425 Fibers IV

Offered: Typically every Spring Term (also offered Fall 2008, as an exception)

In this course, students will focus on producing a conceptually directed independent body of work aimed at the senior exhibition. Students are expected to expand their visual vocabulary within the fibers medium and to produce a cohesive body of work containing at least five pieces that are connected both visually and conceptually. Projects will be student directed with instructor guidance and should be designed to encourage growth, controlled individual expression, and independent learning. The student also is expected to continue experimenting by continuing to build a vocabulary of materials and methods. Six in-class studio hours each week. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 430 Sculpture IV

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

This course requires students to concentrate on producing a conceptually directed independent body of work aimed at the senior exhibition. Six in-class studio hours each week. Course Fee: $15, plus the cost of materials. 1 Course

ART 186/286/386/486 Special Topics

Prerequisites: Determined by course instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See p. 51 of this Catalog. 1/2 or 1 Course

ART 390/490A or B Independent Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior status for 390; senior status for 490

Offered: Typically as demand and Faculty availability allow

See pp. 51-52 of this Catalog. NOTE: A required course for the Art History major. 1 Course

ART 491 Independent Studio

Prerequisite: Permission of Department

Offered: Typically as demand and faculty/staff availability allow

Intensive work in an area not currently in the curriculum. A proposal for Independent Studio must be approved by the Department during the term prior to when the course is to be taken. 1 Course

ART 493 Senior Seminar

Prerequisite: Senior standing

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

A series of lectures, films, discussions, visiting artist programs, review, and other designated meetings. An exhibition of work or an oral presentation of a selected research topic during the senior year (ART 493) is required. NOTE: Required for all Art Majors with senior standing in the last regular term of residence. Noncredit Course

ART 395/495 Internship

Prerequisite: Sophomore, junior, or senior standing

Offered: Typically every term

ART 397/497A or B Team Initiated Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior status for 390; senior standing for 490

Offered: Typically as demand and faculty availability allow

ART 398/498 Directed Study

Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

Offered: Typically on a limited basis as need and interest allow

Asian Studies

AST 101 Introduction to Japanese I (JPN)

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

Introduction to Japanese as it is spoken in Japan today. Speaking and listening comprehension will be emphasized. 1 Course

AST 102 Introduction to Japanese II (JPN)

Prerequisite: AST/JPN 101 with a grade of C or higher, or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

Continued emphasis on Japanese oral/aural communication skills and an introduction to the Japanese written language. 1 Course

AST 103 Introduction to Japanese III (JPN)

Prerequisite: AST/JPN 102 with a grade of C or higher, or permission of instructor

Continued development of Japanese speaking, listening, reading, and writing skills. 1 Course

AST 104 Introduction to Japanese IV (JPN)

Prerequisite: AST/JPN 103 with a grade of C or higher or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

Completion of the two-term intermediate level of Japanese language instruction; continued practice of reading, writing, listening, and speaking, fully integrated with culture. 1 Course

AST 122 History of China (HIS)

China has one of the foundational civilizations in human history. It gave rise to social structures, political systems, and philosophies that deeply influenced the development of East Asia. Through close reading of documents, focused analytical writing, open discussion, and lecture, students will develop their own understanding of the evolution of China from its Neolithic origins to its present status as a world power. World Culture (Non-Western) component of the International Perspective. 1 Course

AST 123 History of Japan (HIS)

Japan has developed from an isolated chain of islands at the edge of East Asia into a modern economic giant. Through close reading of documents, focused analytical writing, open discussion, and lecture, we will examine the complexity of the culture that gave rise to Zen Buddhism, the samurai, and Japan's current position as one of the world's most powerful economies. World Culture (Non-Western) component of the International Perspective. 1 Course

AST 229 Modern Imperialism (HIS)

Prerequisite: HIS 102, AST/HIS 122, AST/HIS 123, OR GSTR 210

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2009)

This course is a selective exploration of imperialism using a comparative historical perspective. Beginning with a reflection on the meanings of "empire," the course explores the rise of European empires during the "high colonialism" of the 19th and 20th centuries. This course then will explore the expansion of European colonialism and regional responses-including local resistance, national revolutions, and the development of the Soviet and Japanese empires. After examining the dynamics of imperial decline between 1919 and 1945, the course will conclude by considering the status of empires in the post- World War II period. World Culture (Western) component of the International Perspective. 1 Course

AST 231 Religions of India and Tibet (REL)

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2009)

A study of the principal religious traditions of South Asia: Buddhism, Hinduism, Islam, Jainism, and Sikhism. The course includes readings in the classical primary texts of each tradition, as well as attention to ritual and practice. Religion Perspective and World Culture (Non-Western) component of the International Perspective. 1 Course

AST 232 Religions of China and Japan (REL)

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered in Fall 2008)

A study of the principal religious traditions of East Asia: Buddhism, Confucianism, Shinto, and Taoism. The course includes readings in the classical primary texts of each tradition as well as attention to ritual and practice. Religion Perspective and World Culture (Non-Western) component of the International Perspective. 1 Course

AST 248 Islamic Art and Architecture (ART)

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2009)

A study of Islamic art and architecture in the Middle East, North Africa, and Spain. Arts Perspective and Religion Perspective. 1 Course

AST 250 Indian and Southeast Asian Art History (ART)

Prerequisite: GSTR 210

A survey of the religious art (Buddhist, Dravidian, Hindu, Islamic, Jain) of India and Southeast Asia. Arts Perspective and Religion Perspective. 1 Course

AST 260 Buddhism (REL)

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Spring 2010)

A study of the history and diversity of Buddhist traditions, from the time of the Buddha in 5th-century BCE India to contemporary Buddhist communities in Asia and the West. Special attention will be given to the problems and prospects of Buddhism in relation to contemporary issues, such as gender and sexuality, ecological change, and the relationship between religion and politics. Religion Perspective and World Culture (Non-Western) component of the International Perspective. 1 Course

AST 308 Themes in Asian Traditions (REL)

Prerequisite: One AST course

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Spring 2009)

A close study of selected texts, practices, or experiences of one or more Asian religious traditions. May be repeated for credit, provided the topic varies from that studied previously. 1 Course

AST 322 Seminar in Chinese History (HIS)

Prerequisite: AST/HIS 122 or 123; OR junior standing

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

The goal of this course is two-fold. Through examining a key period in Chinese history, students both will develop a deeper appreciation for Chinese culture and a better understanding for the various methodologies that historians employ in analyzing complex societies. By reading key primary documents and secondary material from important historians, students will develop a picture of the way social, economic, political, and cultural issues interact and shape the period. May be repeated for credit, provided the topic differs from those studied previously. World Culture (Non-Western) component of the International Perspective. 1 Course

AST 323 Seminar in Japanese History (HIS)

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2009)

AST 401 Senior Seminar in Asian Studies

Prerequisite: Senior standing or permission of instructor

Through common readings and independent work, students will explore various views of Asia, past and present, from within Asia and from without. Through the common readings, students will deal with central questions regarding geographic visions of Asia, the reality or unreality of "Asia," key issues for the region, etc. Through regular presentations of ongoing individual projects, students will learn from each other about diverse Asia-related issues. For example, one day, students might all read an address written by the President of the American Association of Asian Studies, followed by individual presentations on aspects of Shinto religion, followed by the politics of the partition of India, followed by current concerns with North Korea. The course is intentionally open-ended and free-flowing, both to encompass specific student interests and to develop the ability to think broadly about Asia. 1 Course

AST 186/286/386/486 Special Topics

Prerequisites: Determined by instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See p. 51 of this Catalog. 1/2 or 1 Course

AST 390/490A or B Independent Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 390; senior standing for 490

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

Biology

BIO 100 Introduction to Biology

Prerequisite: Completion or waiver of MAT 010, or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

Introduction to the practice of science, the study of biology, and the fundamental principles of living organisms. A first-year-level course specifically designed for non-Biology majors. Three class periods and one two-hour laboratory period each week. NOTE: Credit will not be given toward the Biology major. 1 Course

BIO 101 Human Anatomy and Physiology I

Prerequisite: Completion or waiver of MAT 010, or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

A study of the gross and microscopic anatomy of the human body and how it relates to body function. Emphasis is on basic chemistry, cells, tissues, and skeletal, muscular, nervous, and cardiovascular organ systems. This course deals with physiology as an integrating process within the body. Three class periods and one two-hour laboratory period each week. 1 Course

BIO 102 Human Anatomy and Physiology II

Prerequisite: BIO 101 OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

A continuing study of the organ systems of the human body. Emphasis is on the special senses, integumentary, endocrine, respiratory, digestive, urinary, and reproductive systems. A cursory study of human development and genetics also is provided. Three class periods and one two-hour laboratory each week. NOTE: This course is noncredit for students who completed it as BIO 302. 1 Course

BIO 110 Modern Biology

Prerequisite: Completion or waiver of MAT 012, or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

A foundation course in biology that serves as an introduction to the major. This introduction includes the presentation of the following concepts: general chemical principles, cell structure and function, metabolism, energy pathways, cell division, classical and molecular genetics, and evolution. Historical development and contemporary considerations of these topics will be emphasized. Laboratory exercises will be experimental and descriptive. Three class periods and one three-hour laboratory each week. NOTE: This first-year course is the prerequisite to all Biology courses with the exception of BIO 100, 101, 102, and 207. 1 Course

BIO 113 Experimental Zoology

Prerequisite: BIO 110 with a grade of C- or higher, or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

This core course is designed to allow prospective majors to engage themselves actively in the practice of biology. Its primary objective will be to introduce prospective majors (second term of first year or first term of sophomore year) to methods of experimental design, analysis, scientific writing, and poster or oral presentations of results. Students will be exposed to experimental systems representing various areas of Zoology (e.g., physiology, ecology, development, parasitology, evolution, etc.). Lectures will be limited to providing adequate background information for each research system and analytical tools (i.e., statistics, graphing programs, primary literature) for analyzing data. Two class projects and one group investigative project will be required. Three class periods and one three-hour lab each week. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed BIO 313. 1 Course

BIO 114 Botany

Prerequisites: Completion or waiver of MAT 012; BIO 110 with a grade of c- or higher; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

The diversity of the major divisions of the Monera, Protista, Fungi, and Plant Kingdoms is studied with emphasis on classification, evolution, morphology, physiology, genetics, and life cycles of organisms. A written report on a botanical topic is required of all students. Three class periods and one three-hour laboratory period each week. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed BIO 314. 1 Course

BIO 207 Pathophysiology: Concepts of Altered Health States

Prerequisites: Either 1) BIO 102, plus CHM 113 or CHM 131 (formerly 121) OR 2) BIO 220 (formerly 320), BIO 323, and CHM 221 (formerly CHM 321)

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

This course will explore human pathophysiology using a conceptual model that integrates alterations in health across the lifespan as the human body continually monitors and adjusts to the stress of everyday life. The course will be organized around common health problems with three areas of focus: 1) control of normal function, 2) altered function, and 3) the implications of human response. Integration of the physiologic mechanisms of drug therapy and other treatment modalities will be included. The class will consist of three hours of lecture and a two-hour laboratory each week. NOTES: This course may not be used to satisfy any concentration area requirement in the Biology major. Noncredit for students who completed BTO 307. 1 Course

BIO 220 Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy

Prerequisites: BIO 110 and BIO 113 (formerly 313), or permission of instructor; a sophomore-level course

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

Structure-function relationships are used to study the internal and external morphology of various classes of vertebrates. Variations in structure will be discussed in the context of evolution of form and function. Dissections of representative vertebrates are used to illustrate the major evolutionary changes in vertebrate systems. Three two-hour class/laboratory periods each week. 1 Course

BIO 222 Microbiology

Prerequisites: BIO 102 (formerly 302) or 110 AND CHM 113 or 221 (formerly CHM 321)

Offered: Typically annually (offered Fall 2008 and Spring 2009, as an exception)

A study of microorganisms and their various activities with special emphasis on bacteria and viruses. Topics include microbial cell structure and function, microbial diversity, microbial growth and metabolism, and microbial genetics. The role of microorganisms in infectious disease, as well as specific and non-specific host defense, also will be one of the major focuses of the course. Applied and environmental microbiology also will be discussed. Students will gain experience culturing and manipulating a wide variety of microorganisms in the lab. Students also will design, conduct, and present the results of an independent laboratory research project. Three class periods and one three-hour laboratory period each week. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed BIO 322. 1 Course

BIO 323 Human Physiology

Prerequisites: BIO 110 and 113 (formerly 313); AND CHM 221 (formerly 321); OR permission of instructor; this is a sophomore, junior, or senior-level course

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

Structure and function of the human body is examined at the system and cellular level. The course is organized around the major organ systems: nervous and endocrine systems, respiratory and cardiovascular systems, renal and digestive systems, the immune system, and reproductive systems. Each system will be studied in isolation, and as part of the interaction among all systems in the maintenance of homeostasis. Clinical disorders will be used as examples in understanding normal physiological function, but the course does not have a medical physiology focus. Three class periods and one three-hour laboratory period each week. NOTE: Not open to students with credit in BIO 101 or 102. 1 Course

Prerequisite: BIO 113 (formerly 313) or permission of instructor; a sophomore, junior, or senior-level course

The intent of this course is to expose students to the general morphological features and life cycles of selected human helminths and arthropods with directly or indirectly affect human health. Parasite pathology, diagnosis, and control will accompany this coverage. The course also will consider a number of local examples of non-human parasites in the interest of diversity and safety, and expose students to field collection strategies. Students will be required to master several techniques that will involve the recovery and proper preservation of parasites from naturally infected hosts and the completion of a permanent slide project. A second objective is to expose students to experimental designs for conducting experiments with parasites, which will include an exposure to primary literature and the completion of a research poster related to an individual or group project. 1 Course

BIO 326 Invertebrate Zoology

Prerequisite: BIO 113 (formerly 313) or permission of instructor; a sophomore-, junior-, or senior-level course

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms, contingent upon faculty availability

This traditional course emphasizes the comparative morphology, physiology, life cycles, and evolutionary relationships of the major invertebrate phyla. Laboratories will include observation of living and preserved material, prepared slides, dissections, and numerous field collection trips. Techniques for preparing and cataloging specimens will result in the completion of an invertebrate collection. Three class periods and one three-hour lab each week. 1 Course

BIO 330 Genetics

Prerequisites: BIO 113 and 114 (formerly BIO 313 and 314); CHM 222 (formerly CHM 322); or permission of instructor; this is a junior- or senior-level course

Offered: Typically every Spring Term (not offered Spring 2008, as an exception)

A study of the principles of heredity and their application in living organisms. Classical transmission genetics is introduced at the phenotypic level and developed at the molecular genetics level. Topics include transmission genetics; chromosome theory, structure, and transmission; genetic linkage, recombination, and mapping; human karyotypes and chromosome behavior; extranuclear inheritance; DNA mutation and repair, gene structure, expression, and regulation; population genetics and evolution; genetic engineering and genomics; and genetic bioethics. The laboratory component of this course is research-rich, and students will conduct several research-based projects. Students also will be expected to prepare and orally present a primary research article as part of the course "Journal Club." Three class periods and one three-hour laboratory period each week. 1 Course

BIO 331 Developmental Biology

Prerequisites: BIO 113 (formerly 313) and CHM 221 (formerly 321), OR permission of instructor; this is a sophomore- or junior-level course

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2009)

The origin and development of individual animals is described from the formation of the egg and sperm through fertilization and the development of a mature organism. The emphasis is on vertebrates, but invertebrates and plants are included as well. Lectures focus on the molecular and morphological characteristics of development, and on classical and modern experiments in the field. Students will gain experience with the primary literature of developmental biology. Laboratory exercises include work with sea urchins, chicks, frogs, fruit flies, and plants. Three class periods and one three-hour laboratory period each week. 1 Course

BIO 332 Mammalogy

Prerequisite: BIO 113 (formerly 313) or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms, contingent upon faculty availability

An introduction to the study of mammal biology. Emphasis will be upon classification, morphology, ecology, geographical distribution, natural life history, and field methods with a field focus on Kentucky mammals. Two class periods and two two-hour laboratory periods each week. 1 Course

BIO 342 Field Botany

Prerequisites: Completion or waiver of MAT 012; BIO 114 (formerly 314); OR permission of instructor; this is a junior- or senior-level course

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

Identification, classification, ecological, and economic uses of the local and regional native and naturalized flora. The focus will be spring Magnoliophytes and selected Pteridophytes and Pinophytes in eastern Kentucky. Nine hours of class, laboratory, and field work each week. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed BIO 442. 1 Course

BIO 344 Dendrology and Forest Ecology

Prerequisite: BIO 114 (formerly 314) or permission of instructor; this is a junior- or senior-level course

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

Identification, classification, ecological, and economic uses of the native and naturalized woody plants and autumn flora of eastern Kentucky with special reference on the vegetation of the Eastern Deciduous Forest Region. Nine hours of class, laboratory, and field work each week. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed BIO 444. 1 Course

BIO 441 Cellular and Molecular Biology

Prerequisites: BIO 113, 114 (formerly BIO 313,314), CHM 222 (formerly CHM 322) OR permission of instructor; BIO 222 (formerly BIO 322) is suggested strongly; this is a senior-level course

An integrated study of cell structure and function at the molecular and macromolecular levels. Emphasis is on both traditional and contemporary areas of cell biology. Topics typically discussed include plasma membrane structure and function; ion and macromolecular transport; cellular bioenergetics and metabolism; organelle structure and function; structure and function of cytoplasmic membrane systems; membrane trafficking; the cytoskeleton and cell motility; cell-to-cell interaction, communication, and signaling; the cell cycle and cell death; and special topics such as oncogenesis and stem cells. The laboratory component of this course is research intensive, and students will participate in an on-going class-based research project as part of this course. Students also will gain experience using a wide range of cell and molecular laboratory techniques. Students will prepare and present two primary research articles as part of the course "Journal Club" and will prepare a pre-doctoral fellowship proposal based on one of their chosen articles. Three class periods and one three-hour laboratory period each week. 1 Course

BIO 186/286/386/486 Special Topics

Prerequisites: Determined by instructor

Offered: See note below

See p. 51 of this Catalog. NOTE: Eight hours of laboratory, library, field, and discussion time to be arranged each week during Fall or Spring Term; full-time during Short Term. 1/2 or 1 Course

BIO 390/490A or B Independent Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 390; senior standing for 490

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See pp. 51-52 of this Catalog. NOTE: Designed for the qualified student to pursue Faculty-directed primary research, or conduct a special study of a biological topic using primary literature sources, and development of special techniques in a biological specialization. A satisfactory paper and oral presentation are required. 1 Course

BIO 494 Evolution

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

Capstone course required for all senior-level Biology majors. A study of the processes, concepts, and philosophical implications of the modern theory of biological evolution. Topics range from chemical evolution and the origin of life to macroevolutionary trends in adaptive radiation and extinction. Examples from various taxa are employed to examine concepts such as species and speciation, evolutionary rates, and the role of chance events in the evolutionary process. Evolutionary theory is examined in relation to its ability to explain biological complexity and structural anomalies in various taxa including humans. Three two-hour class periods each week. 1 Course

Prerequisite: Sophomore, junior, or senior standing

Offered: Typically every term

BIO 397/497A or B Team Initiated Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 397; senior standing for 497

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

BIO 398/498 Directed Study

Prerequisites: Will vary, but always will include permission of instructor

Offered: Typically on a limited basis as student interest and faculty availability allow

Chemistry

CHM 101 Foundations of Chemistry

Prerequisite: Completion or waiver of MAT 010 or concurrent enrollment in MAT 011

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

An introduction to the foundations of chemistry designed for students who are interested in the physical sciences and have had limited math and/or high-school chemistry background. Topics unit cancellation, stoichiometry, simple atomic theory and structure, simple chemical nomenclature, and mole calculations. This course may be waived by examination. It meets three hours per week of content lectures with an additional tutorial hour in place of laboratory. NOTES: Concurrent enrollment in MAT 012 or higher is suggested (particularly if students plan to continue on to CHM 131, which also has MAT 012 as a prerequisite). Noncredit for students who already have earned credits in regularly offered Berea College CHM courses. 1 Course

CHM 113 Fundamentals of General and Biological Chemistry

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Spring 2009)

The fundamental principles of chemistry emphasizing the nature and activity of physiological substances and of metabolic pathways. Three classes and one two-hour laboratory period each week. NOTE: Students who wish to pursue medical, dental, or pharmaceutical careers should not take this course because it is intended primarily for students who are majoring in Agriculture and Natural Resources or Nursing and other allied-health fields. 1 Course

CHM 131 Accelerated General Chemistry

Prerequisite: Permission of instructor or completion of both MAT 012 and CHM 101

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

An accelerated study of general chemistry designed for students who have taken or waived CHM 10 I. Students are assumed to be familiar with topics from CHM 101, which will be reviewed in the first two weeks of the course. The majority of the course will deal with topics that come at the middle and end of a general-chemistry course sequence, including molecular orbitals, acid-base chemistry, chemical equilibria, buffers, thermochemistry, kinetics, gas laws, and solid/liquid interactions. The goal of this course is to cover sufficient material so that students are prepared to enter fully a standard organic-chemistry sequence without needing additional general-chemistry course work. This course meets three hours general-chemistry course work. This course meets three hours each week with an additional three-hour laboratory session each week. NOTES: Concurrent enrollment in MAT 115 or higher is suggested. Noncredit for students who completed CHM 121, 124, or 134. 1 Course

CHM 134 Accelerated Environmental Chemistry

Prerequisite: Permission of instructor or completion or waiver of both MAT 012 and CHM 101

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

This course is equivalent in content to CHM 131, with an emphasis on environmental issues and applications. These topics include molecular orbitals, acid-base chemistry, chemical equilibria, buffers, thermochemistry, kinetics, gas laws, and nuclear chemistry. The goal of this course is to cover sufficient material so that students are prepared to enter fully a standard organic chemistry sequence without needing additional general-chemistry course work. This course meets for three hours each week with an additional three-hour laboratory session each week. NOTES: Concurrent enrollment in MAT 115 or higher is suggested. Noncredit for students who completed CHM 121, 124, or 131. 1 Course

CHM 221 Organic Chemistry I

Prerequisite: CHM 131 or 134 (which replaced CHM 121 or 124)

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

A study of the chemistry of carbon compounds: organic acids and bases, alkanes and cycloalkanes, stereochemistry, nucleophilic substitution and elimination, alkenes, and alkynes. Emphasis will be placed on nomenclature, physical and chemical properties, reactivity, and reaction mechanisms. This course meets for three hours of lecture per week with an additional three-hour laboratory session each week. NOTE: Noncredit for students who have completed CHM 321. 1 Course

CHM 222 Organic Chemistry II

Prerequisite: CHM 221 (formerly 321)

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

A continuation of the Organic Chemistry two-course sequence. Topics include: the chemistry of aromatic compounds; spectroscopy (NMR, UV/Visible, IR, Mass Spectrometry); alcohols, diols, ethers, aldehydes, and ketones; carboxylic acids and their derivatives; enols and enolates; condensation reactions; and amines. This course meets for three hours of lecture per week with an additional three-hour laboratory session each week. NOTE: Noncredit for students who have completed CHM 322. 1 Course

CHM 311 Analytical Chemistry

Prerequisite: CHM 131 or 134 (or 121 or 124, no longer offered), and completion or waiver of MAT 135 (formerly 220), or concurrent enrollment

A study of analytical chemistry theory and methods designed for students who are either Chemistry majors or who desire a 4th term of chemistry as an option in lieu of CHM 345. The material is an extension of the content in CHM 131 and 134 with an emphasis on analytical methods. In particular, topics will include complex equilibria, complex acid-base chemistry, activities, error analysis, calibrations, standardizations, obtaining and preparing samples for analysis, gravimetric methods, titrations, electrochemistry, and chemical instrumentation. This course meets three hours with an additional three-hour laboratory session each week. NOTE: Noncredit for students who have completed CHM 341. 1 Course

CHM 345 Biochemistry

Prerequisite: CHM 311 (formerly 341)

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

A one-term intensive study of modern biochemistry. The class is comprised of three major sections. In the biomolecules section, students will study amino acids, nucleic acids, carbohydrates, and lipids. In the proteins section, students will study protein structure, function, and enzyme kinetics. Finally, in the metabolism section, students will study glycolysis, the citric-acid cycle, and electron transport/oxidative phosphorylation. This class draws on all four previous classes of chemistry (CHM 131/134, 221, 222, and 311). There will be three hours of lecture each week. 1 Course

CHM 361 Thermochemistry

Prerequisite: CHM 311 (formerly 341); MAT 225; PHY 218 (or concurrent enrollment) or PHY 315; OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

An advanced study of classical thermodynamics and chemical kinetics. Topics include a detailed study of energy, entropy and enthalpy, multi-component phase diagrams, real gases, electrochemical systems, reaction kinetics, and transport processes. The fundamental goal is to achieve a physical description of general chemical phenomena with a strong emphasis on mathematical models. There will be three hours of lecture each week. 1 Course

362 Quantum Chemistry

Prerequisite: CHM 311 (formerly 341), MAT 225, PHY 218 or PHY 315, OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

An advanced study of quantum mechanics and statistical mechanics. Topics include in-depth treatment of various fundamental problems in quantum mechanics (particle in a box, rigid rotor, and harmonic oscillator), applications of these problems to chemical systems, atomic and molecular orbital theory and structure, spectroscopy, lasers, and statistical mechanics. The fundamental goal is to achieve a physical description of the quantum nature of matter and how this manifests itself in chemical problems. This course relies heavily on mathematical approximations to difficult differential equations and interpretation of these answers in terms of probabilities. There will be three hours of lecture each week. 1 Course

CHM 370 Advanced Laboratory I

Prerequisite: CHM 311 (formerly 341); OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

See general description above. 1/2 Course

CHM 371 Advanced Laboratory II

Prerequisite: CHM 370 and one additional CHM course at the

345-or-higher level (which may be taken concurrently); OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term Continuation of CHM 370. See general description above. 1/2 Course

CHM 470 Advanced Laboratory III

Prerequisite: CHM 370 (or concurrent enrollment) and one additional CHM course at the 345-or-higher level; OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Fall Term Continuation of CHM 371. (See general description above.)

In this course, students will be expected to take an active leadership role in the group projects that are shared jointly between this course and CHM 370. 1/2 Course

CHM 471 Advanced Laboratory IV

Prerequisite: CHM 371 (or concurrent enrollment) and two additional CHM courses at the 345-and-higher-level or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term Continuation of CHM 470. (See general description on previous page.)

In addition, students will take a written comprehensive chemistry examination as part of this course. Students will be graded pass/fail on this examination and may retake the exam multiple times throughout the term, if needed. Failure to pass this examination will result in an incomplete grade for CHM 471, which will become a grade of F on the student's transcript at the end of the next regular term. 1/2 Course

CHM 451 Advanced Inorganic Chemistry

Prerequisite: CHM 311 (formerly 341)

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2009)

A study of modern concepts in inorganic chemistry, including atomic and molecular orbital theory, ligand field theory, and molecular symmetry. 1 Course

CHM 452 Advanced Organic Chemistry

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2010)

Topics include an introduction to molecular orbital theory, pericyclic reactions, the Woodward-Hoffmann Rules, multi-step synthesis, drug synthesis, the chemistry of heterocyclic compounds, and macromolecular chemistry. There will be three hours of lecture each week. 1 Course

CHM 186/286/386/486 Special Topics

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms, at departmental discretion.

See p. 51 of this Catalog. NOTE: This course will allow each instructor to offer an advanced course exploring a topic such as spectroscopy (focusing on NMR primarily), electrochemistry (fuel cells and battery technology), biochemistry (including topics such as metabolism, nucleic acids or protein chemistry), or other specialized topics. 1/2 or 1 Course

CHM 390/490A or B Independent Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 390; senior standing for 490

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allows

See pp. 51-52 of this Catalog. 1 Course

CHM 395/495 Internship

Offered: Typically every term

CHM 397/497A or B Team Initiated Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 397; senior standing for 497

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

CHM 398/498 Directed Study

Prerequisites: Will vary, but always will include permission of instructor

Offered: Typically on a limited basis as student interest and faculty availability allow

See p. 52 of this Catalog. NOTE: In this course, students conduct research under the supervision of a Chemistry instructor. Each Chemistry major must complete this course or an equivalent approved Summer or Short Term experience. This course may be repeated as often as the student and faculty mentor see fit. Students are required to present two presentations relating to their project. One presentation must be on campus and the other off campus. 1 Course

Child and Family Studies

CFS 103 The Science of Food Systems (ANR)

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2009)

A study of the production of food from the farm to the table, emphasizing the environmental and economic sustainability of various systems of food production. Includes the science of soil management, systems of crop and livestock management in the production of foodstuff, food chemistry, food safety, and human nutrition. Laboratory experiences and field trips will be included. 1 Course

CFS 110 Apparel and Costume Design and Construction (THR)

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Spring 2010)

This course offers an introduction to the design and construction of basic garments and costumes. An exploration of the history of fashion and costume history, including the social, economic, cultural, and psychological factors influencing the selection and use of apparel and costumes. The course includes instruction in fibers and textiles; pattern drafting, design, fitting, and construction techniques; alterations of commercial patterns; and care, repair, storage, and recycling of clothing and costumes. Will also examine consumer buying and technological innovations used in the fashion industry. Course Fee: $15. 1 Course

CFS 115 Principles of Food Science

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2009)

This course offers an introduction to the scientific principles involved with selection, preparation, preservation, and evaluation of food in relation to quality standards, acceptability, and aesthetics. It examines the nutrient composition of foods; the physical and chemical properties of foods; the regulated use of additives; food safety and toxicology; and the microbiological influences associated with food production. Lab experiments investigate principles of food chemistry including the interrelationship of ingredients and their effects on physical, chemical, and sensory characteristics of foods; food safety, sanitation, and related nutrition issues. Course Fee: $15. 1 Course

CFS 130 Lifespan Human Development

A survey of growth and development from conception through old age and death. Theories of development, contexts of development, research methodologies, and historical and contemporary issues are examined to help describe the physical, social, emotional, cognitive-perceptual, and moral-conscious aspects of growth and development. Individual differences, family, social, and cultural diversity, along with non-normative development for each phase of development, are examined. Directed observation is required. Course Fee: $20. 1 Course

CFS 145 Consumer Decision Making

Principles of decision making applied to the use of household resources and individual choices relative to the purchase, consumption, and production of goods and services. Consumer concerns such as health care, credit, housing, food, clothing, savings, insurance, and protective legislation are covered. Practical Reasoning (PR). 1 Course

CFS 207 Family Relations (WST)

Prerequisite: GSTR 110

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

An introductory survey of the psycho-social aspects of family science, including an examination of functions and variations over the life cycle, diverse family forms, gender roles and power, family resources, healthy intimate relations and personal communication, and issues of parenthood. This course balances theory and personal application. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective and Social Science Perspective. 1 Course

CFS 210 Foundations of Interdisciplinary Early Childhood Education (EDS)

Prerequisite: CFS 130 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

This course is designed to help students develop a philosophy of teaching and learning for children birth through kindergarten. Current thought and practice will be examined in light of the early childhood profession and its historical, philosophical, and social foundations. Public policy, legal implications, and a code of ethics will be studied. Theoretical perspectives including psychoanalytic theories, social-learning theories, behaviorism, cognitive and developmental theories, the humanistic models, and the normative-descriptive systems will be used to establish a framework for analysis and assessment. Historical and contemporary models of early childhood education, such as Head Start, High Scope, Montessori, British Infant Schools, Reggio Emilia, enrichment programs, and comprehensive, compensatory, and intervention models will be examined in view of their effects on children, families, and communities. 10 field hours. 1 Course

CFS 217 Parent/Child Relations

An intensive study of the nature of parent-child relations, parental roles, theories of parenting, and developmental interaction throughout the lifespan. Focuses on cultural, social, and family diversity; family resources; family services; adult and child learning principles; and historical and contemporary parenting in the United States. Students will be introduced to a variety of parenting-education programs and learn strategies for working with parents. This course is for both those who want to improve their own parenting skills and those who will work with parents in a professional capacity. 1 Course

CFS 221 Fundamentals of Nutrition

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

This course integrates the principles of nutrition and the promotion of personal health and well-being through dietary disease prevention. It emphasizes the functions of basic nutrients within the human body and in outstanding dietary sources, as well as factors that have an impact on food sources and selection of an adequate diet. Class discussions and activities survey current consumer issues, nutritional concepts and controversies, myths, and factors that influence dietary habits. 1 Course

CFS 225 Food, Culture, and Society

Prerequisites: GSTR 210 or permission of instructor

A study of the cross-cultural role of food as an integral component of early civilization through more modern societies, including both western and non-western cultures. Through selected readings, the use of artifacts, interviews, field trips, personal reflections, and hands-on opportunities, we will survey the historical evolution of food from early civilization through the Middle Ages, the Renaissance, the Industrial Revolution, and into the 21st century. This examination will explore the use of and symbolic representation of food within selected religious traditions, ethnic groups, health practices, and other aesthetic, moral, and social norms and cultural contexts. World Culture (Western) component of the International Perspective. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

CFS 237 Human Environments I (Residential Housing)

Shelter choices for individuals and families; sustainability in housing design and construction; architectural styles; universal design; and kitchen design. 1 Course

CFS 238 Human Environments II (Interior Design)

Prerequisites: Sophomore standing or above; CFS 237 preferred

Offered: Typically every Spring Term (next offered Spring 2010, as an exception)

Selection of interior elements of housing: furniture, finishes, textiles, accessories; residential and commercial applications; characteristics of textiles used in home furnishings; incorporation of sustainable design and historical influences. Arts Perspective. Course Fee: $15. 1 Course

CFS 252 Methods in Teaching Family and Consumer Science Education (EDS)

Methods specific to teaching Family and Consumer Sciences in middle and high schools and in adult education, including Special Topics such as developmentally-appropriate instruction, curriculum development, student organizations, and teaching reading in the content area. Assessment of the relationship between teaching methods and cognitive science. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

CFS 313 Infancy and Early Childhood

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2010)

An intensive study of growth and development from conception through early childhood. Stress is placed on a critical study of the physical, social, emotional, cognitive-perceptual, and moral-conscious aspects of development. Such topics as individual differences, social and family diversity, play and developmentally appropriate learning activities, assessment and data collection, working with parents, interdisciplinary service delivery models, and intervention resources and strategies for working with individuals and families are examined in view of normative and non-normative development in prenatal life, infancy, and early childhood. 1 Course

CFS 315 Middle Childhood and Adolescence

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2009)

An intensive study of growth and development from middle childhood through adolescence. Stress is placed on a critical study of the physical, emotional, and social cognitive-perceptual and moral-conscious aspects of development. Emphasis also is placed on non-normative development during middle childhood and adolescence. Directed observations are required. 1 Course

CFS 334 Culinary Arts and Hospitality

Prerequisites: CFS 15 and 22 I; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2010)

This course examines the conceptual representation of food within historical, socio-cultural, psychological, artistic, and other contexts. Principles of menu planning and management functions for residential and commercial settings are integrated throughout the course. Lab exercises, field trips, and other class activities emphasize basic culinary principles and food presentation techniques; the study of manufacturing processes, proper selection and care of table appointments; appropriate table-service principles; social etiquette; and a survey of local, regional, national, and international cuisines. Course Fee: $15. 1 Course

CFS 345 Community Nutrition

Offered: Typically every Spring term

An exploration of nutritional needs and effective nutrition education models through the human lifecycle. This exploration will survey a broad framework of community food and nutrition services that are available through public, private, and non-profit organizations, such as WIC, community food banks, and Meals on Wheels. The primary emphasis will be to examine food and nutrition community services as effective vehicles to address quality of life issues for mothers and infants, adolescents, and young, middle, and older adults. A service-learning component will be a significant element of the course. Particular emphasis will be placed on enhancing library and research skills, critical reading, active listening skills, and effective interviewing, speaking, and writing skills. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

CFS 350 Family Law and Policy

Prerequisites: CFS 207 (also WST) or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Fall term.

An examination of the relationship between law and family. This course explores the inter-relationship between the evolution of family law and societal change, the controversies involving sexual and family privacy, and state versus federal regulation of families.

Topics include a legal examination of premarital situations and controversies; capacity to marry and the formalities of marriage; rights and duties of marital partners; annulment and separation; divorce grounds and no-fault divorce; spousal support and basic issues of property distribution; rights and responsibilities of parenthood; definitions of parent (surrogacy, adoption, presumptions of legitimacy); principles governing child custody and visitation; child support; legal protection of individuals within the family (domestic violence, child abuse, medical decisions); and regulation of non-traditional relationships (unmarried heterosexual and same-sex couples). In addition, this course examines public policy as it affects the family, including tax, civil rights, social security, and economic support laws and regulations. 1 Course

CFS 353 Childhood Guidance and Behavioral Management

Prerequisite: CFS 130, EDS 227 (formerly 327), or EDS 228 (formerly 328), or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

A study of the behavior and development of young children focusing on theories of guidance, systematic guidance strategies, behavioral goals and outcomes, assessment of developmental levels and learning goals, best practices applications, behavior- management skills, and problem-solving strategies in working with children in learning environments and family settings. 10 field hours. 1 Course

CFS 356 The Exceptional Child

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2010)

An introductory course focusing on definitions, assessment, etiology, psychological effects, and treatment of mental retardation, impaired hearing, speech and vision, orthopedic problems, epilepsy, autism, childhood schizophrenia, the gifted child, and others. Attention is devoted to an introduction to individual differences and cultural, family, and social diversity, legal and ethical guidelines, intervention resources and strategies, interdisciplinary service models, and IEPs and IFSPs. 10 field hours. 1 Course

CFS 358 Child Health and Assessment (NUR)

Offered: Typically alternate Short Terms (next offered Short Term 2010)

This course is designed as a comprehensive study of the health and safety needs of young children (birth through age 8) and the use of multiple assessments of children's development. Content will include prenatal and postpartum care; immunizations; chronic and acute health-care needs; safety issues and good health practices; legal and ethical considerations; evaluation of assessment instruments; and assessment report composition. Students also will become competent in the use of multiple assessments-such as observations, checklists, interviews, anecdotal records, play-based assessments, and norm-and-criterion-referenced tools as prescribed by state and national organizations and learned societies-and will be prepared to make professional decisions regarding screening, assessment, initial program planning, program modification, and program evaluation for young children. Emphasis will be placed on the culturally sensitive collaboration between the student and the families as part of a multi-disciplinary team. 20 field hours. Course Fee: $15. 1 Course

CFS 360 Curriculum and Materials in Early Childhood Education (EDS)

Prerequisite: CFS 130 and CFSIEDS 210; OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2009)

This course is designed to study the foundations of curriculum, the sequence of learning activities, and the curricular materials used in learning environments for children from infancy through age five. Using research and other resources, the student will explore the nature of and the appropriate use for indoor and outdoor equipment, and examine how individually and developmentally appropriate materials and equipment are used to facilitate and encourage the natural or normal sequence of development of the young child and meet the programmatic objectives. Attention will be focused on developing an appreciation for the value of play, learning strategies creating healthy and safe environments, evaluation and assessment, and adapting materials and curricula for multi-ability children in child-care programs, schools, and in the home. 10 field hours. Course Fee: $ 10. 1 Course

CFS 362 Contemporary Family Issues

Prerequisite: CFS 207 (also WST) or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

In-depth examination and ethical consideration of contemporary issues that affect family functions and relations. Includes an overview of family-science theories and addresses such topics as balancing needs of children and adults, divorce, single-parent families, stress, demographic shifts, work-related issues, subcultural variations, reproductive technologies, family violence, drug/alcohol abuse, foster care, and social services. Issues are examined through readings in professional journals and research based publications and discussed in a seminar format. 1 Course

CFS 366 Cross-Cultural Perspectives on Family (WST)

Prerequisite: SOC 100 or permission of instructor

Study of cultural influences upon family functions, structures, and behaviors, focusing on the recognition and understanding of cultural similarities and differences. Covers topics such as cross cultural interrelationships among economy, government, religion, and family; kinship systems and patterns of marital residence; cultural variations in power distribution and sex roles; differences in childrearing patterns; universal shifts from "traditional" families; and variations in roles of aging family members. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective and World Culture (Western) component of the International Perspective. 1 Course

CFS 372 Food Service Systems Management

Prerequisite: CFS 115, 221, and 334, or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2009)

This course models a systems approach to management theories that relate to the effective use of resources in food-service facilities. Emphasis is placed on the use of the computer and other technology as effective decision-making tools. This model explores quality control, food and operational safety, sanitation practices, cost control, and customer satisfaction. Lectures, labs, class activities, and field trips provide experiences for examining procurement, quantity food production, service and distribution, and maintenance operations within health care, colleges/universities, restaurants, schools, and related facilities. Course Fee: $ I 5. 1 Course

CFS 380 Methods of Teaching in Early Childhood Education (EDS)

Prerequisite: CFSIEDS 210 and 360; OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2009)

Consideration of theories, philosophies, principles, curricula, and materials in the teaching-learning process involved with sociodramatic play, art, music, literature, literacy and language, sensory experiences, mathematics, health and nutrition, science, social studies, and activities for large- and small-muscle development. Education Studies

EDS 150 Introduction to Education: Thinking about Learning, Teaching, and Schooling

Prerequisites: GSTR 110 and criminal records clearance completed prior to registration

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

This course is an introduction to the study of education for prospective teachers and others interested in education. The course will offer students the opportunity to explore the following essential questions: 1) What does it mean to learn? 2) What does it mean to teach well? 3) What are schools for? 4) What knowledge, dispositions, and skills are needed in order to teach well? 5) How does diversity affect teaching, learning, and schooling? The course will introduce some of the foundational ideas, issues, and beliefs—historical, political, economic, philosophical, sociological, psychological, cultural, and social—that impact the current educational climate. Students will be introduced to the Department's conceptual framework, portfolio requirements, and other academic, experiential, and professional expectations and requirements for those pursuing teacher certification. The course will include both field-based experiences and volunteer/service-learning experiences with school-aged children and/or adolescents. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

EDS 210 Foundations of Interdisciplinary Early Childhood Education (CFS)

Prerequisites: CFS 130 or permission of instructor

This course is designed to help students develop a philosophy of teaching and learning for children birth through kindergarten. Current thought and practice will be examined in light of the early childhood profession and its historical, philosophical, and social foundations. Public policy, legal implications, and a code of ethics will be studied. Theoretical perspectives including psychoanalytic theories, social-learning theories, behaviorism, cognitive and developmental theories, the humanistic models, and the normative-descriptive systems will be used to establish a framework for analysis and assessment. Historical and contemporary models of early-childhood education, such as Head Start, High Scope, Montessori, British Infant Schools, Reggio Emilia, enrichment programs, and comprehensive, compensatory, and intervention models will be examined in view of their effects on children, families, and communities. 10 field hours. 1 Course

EDS 227 Teaching as Research: Children and School Structure

Prerequisite: EDS 150 (formerly 250); Education Studies P-5 major or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

This course focuses on human-development and learning theories from infancy through adolescence, with emphasis on the pre-kindergarten through intermediate years. Through reading, discussion, and related experiences, students will have the opportunity to develop understanding of significant research describing children's actions, emotions, needs, and learning; the influence of this research on classroom organization, curriculum construction, and lesson planning; and the necessity for drawing on this research in their own lifelong development as teachers. Course activities include individual and group research using both formal and informal methodologies; oral presentations and microteaching; and observing and working with children in and outside public schools. 1 Course

EDS 228 Teaching as Research: Adolescents and School Structure

Prerequisite: EDS 150 (formerly 250) or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

This course focuses on human-development and learning theories from infancy through adolescence, with emphasis on the middle- and high-school aged child. Through reading, discussion, and related experiences, students will have the opportunity to develop understanding of significant research describing children's and adolescents' actions, emotions, needs, and learning; the influence of this research on classroom organization, curriculum construction, and lesson planning; and the necessity for drawing on this research in their own lifelong development as teachers. Course activities include individual and group research using both formal and informal methodologies; oral presentations and microteaching; and observing and working with children and adolescents in and outside of public schools. 1 Course

EDS 252 Methods in Teaching Family and Consumer Science Education (CFS)

Methods specific to teaching Family and Consumer Sciences in middle and high schools and in adult education, including Special Topics such as developmentally-appropriate instruction, curriculum development, student organizations, and teaching reading in the content area. Assessment of the relationship between teaching methods and cognitive science. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

EDS 311 Methods of Teaching Secondary School Social Studies

Prerequisite: Admission to the Teacher Education Program, or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

This course introduces students to the structure of the social studies as a secondary school teaching field; provides an opportunity for students to explore various instructional approaches in the field; and enables students to examine the theoretical underpinnings of teaching practice in social-studies education. In cooperation with a local social-studies teacher, students develop and teach a social studies unit. Additional focus extends to evaluation techniques in social studies, planning for instruction over longer periods of time (term and course-long planning), the role of multicultural education, and appropriate technology for use in the social-studies classroom. 1 Course

EDS 335 Integrated Curriculum I: Arts, Humanities, and Science

Prerequisites: EDS 227 (formerly 327) and Admission to Major; OR permission of ins/rue/or

This course is designed to engage students in integrating the arts, the humanities, and the natural sciences, and to initiate aspiring teachers into the construction of integrated teaching materials and design of appropriate assessment and teaching strategies. Students will have opportunities to become familiar with different aspects of natural science; i.e., science as a process, science as a body of knowledge, science as a set of values, science as a social phenomenon. They will explore themselves as scientific thinkers as they learn science. Similarly, this course will provide students with opportunities to become familiar with processes and ideas relevant to the arts and humanities. Through construction and reflection, they will find the wellsprings of their own art and stories. Students will practice thinking in community as they investigate questions that drive individual inquiry in the sciences, arts, and humanities. Students will use the understandings they gain through these experiences to articulate some important relationships among the arts, the humanities, and the natural sciences; to explore and construct some integrated teaching materials; and to reflect on teaching practices that best facilitate integrated thinking and learning. Each student will propose and carry out an integrated project with children for a minimum of five hours of experience. Course Fee: $25. 1 Course

EDS 340 Students with Special Needs-IECE, P-5 & Middle Grades

Prerequisites: EDS 227 or 228 (formerly 327 or 328) AND Admission to Major

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

This course prepares students to make the instructional and organizational modifications necessary so that children with very different academic, physical, emotional, and social needs can learn in the regular classroom. The focus is on children with a variety of special needs, such as physical and learning exceptionalities (including the gifted); bilingualism; lack of readiness for learning; and violent behaviors. Students also will explore related issues, including the need to develop understanding and skills in counseling and conflict resolution, the nature of family involvement, and school policies and procedures. Field experiences in local schools and other community agencies are an integral part of the course.

EDS 346 Literacy: Intermediate and Middle Grades

Prerequisite: EDS 227 or 228 (formerly 327 or 328) AND Admission to Major; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

Students will examine the intermediate and middle-grades reading/language arts curricula focusing on reading, writing, and content-area literacy. Students will extend their knowledge and appreciation of children's literature in varied genres and learn to integrate literature in inquiry-based, interdisciplinary units of study. Students will deepen their understanding of English spelling, phonics, grammar, vocabulary, and the reading and writing processes, and learn ways to help children acquire understandings and skills in these areas in meaningful contexts. Students will integrate these understandings with their own vision for the children they teach and with constructivist principles of human development to design rich language experiences for all children. In a weekly field experience, students will design and apply developmentally appropriate literacy experiences for individuals and small groups, taking cues from the children and building on their interests and experiences; creating assessments; and using the findings to plan subsequent learning experiences. The course includes a two-hour weekly field experience. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed EDS 344. 1 Course

EDS 347 Literacy: Primary, P-3

Prerequisite: EDS 346 and Admission to Major; OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

Students will examine the early primary reading language arts curriculum focusing on emergent literacy, oral language, reading, writing, and literature in preschool-grade 3. Students will explore the wealth of children's literature appropriate for primary children, both fiction and non-fiction, and examine its role in furthering children's growth as careful, competent, and confident thinkers, speakers, listeners, readers, and writers. Students will draw on and deepen their knowledge of the nature of English, and they will integrate their understandings with principles of human development to select and apply strategies for integrating literature in a balanced curriculum that incorporates phonics, spelling, and handwriting. In a weekly field experience with children in preschool through grade 3, students will learn to design and apply developmentally appropriate literacy experiences, create assessments for individuals and for small groups, and use the findings from those assessments to plan subsequent learning experiences for primary learners. The course includes a two-hour weekly field experience. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed EDS 343. 1 Course

EDS 349 Education and Culture

Prerequisite: EDS 227 or 228 (formerly 327 or 328) and Admission /0 Major; OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

This course serves an important purpose in broadening the context of traditional liberal arts approaches to the study of education by incorporating the field of Cultural Studies as a means to further problematize educational phenomena. A Cultural Studies approach signifies that educational phenomena are a manifestation of all educative aspects of a society and the world in which we live. As such, any attempt to make sense of education in a school context must draw on the multifaceted and discursive nature of how meaning is constructed, which will provide both prospective teachers and students pursuing other careers with the means for democratic reconstruction and transformation. Therefore, in using a Cultural Studies approach, this course will draw on several disciplines such as the arts, history, social sciences, humanities, media studies, science, business, etc., to problematize the nature of meaning-making with regard to culture and education. A conception of culture as texts and performances will emerge, and will thus have crucial implications in regard to the construction of meaning and social reconstruction. 1 Course

EDS 355 Extended Experience in Alternative Settings

Prerequisites: Grade of B- or higher in EDS 349 or the Education Studies Department's approval; intention to pursue teacher certification at Berea; Admission to Major; AND permission of instructor
Offered: Typically every Short Term

In consultation with the instructor, students will design and carry out an experience that places them in settings and with people of cultural and/or ethnic backgrounds different from their own, and who are marginalized by merit of political, social, cultural, economic, physical, or other aspects of their situations. Students are encouraged strongly to undertake experiences in settings that will challenge them sufficiently to see life through the eyes of those with whom they will work. At the conclusion of the course, students will provide evidence of the impact of this experience, and will articulate its value in relation to their commitments, values, beliefs, and understandings about themselves as aspiring teachers. 1 Course

EDS 360 Curriculum and Materials in Early Childhood Education (CFS)

Prerequisite: CFS 130 and CFS/EDS 210 OR permission of instructor
Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2009)

This course is designed to study the foundations of curriculum, the sequence of learning activities, and the curricular materials used in learning environments for children from infancy through age five. Using research and other resources the student will explore the nature of and the appropriate use for indoor and outdoor equipment, and examine how individually and developmentally appropriate materials and equipment are used to facilitate and encourage the natural or normal sequence of development of the young child and meet the programmatic objectives. Attention will be focused on developing an appreciation for the value of play, learning strategies creating healthy and safe environments, evaluation and assessment, and adapting materials and curricula for multi-ability children in child-care programs, schools, and in the home. 10 field hours. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

EDS 380 Methods of Teaching in Early Childhood Education (CFS)

Prerequisite: CFS/EDS 210 and 360 OR permission of instructor
Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2009)

Consideration of theories, philosophies, principles, curricula, and materials in the teaching-learning process involved with sociodramatic play, art, music, literature, literacy and language, sensory experiences, mathematics, health and nutrition, science, social studies, and activities for large and small muscle development. The student will plan, design, and implement developmentally appropriate activities for multi-ability children in child-care programs, schools, and in home environments, as well as assist in the overall operation of a program for young children and develop best-practices management knowledge and skills in preparation for teaching practicum. 24 field hours. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

EDS 382 Early Childhood Special Education (CFS)

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2010)

This course is designed for students preparing to teach children birth through age five, and comprises a comprehensive study of early-childhood special education focusing on historical developments; the impact of technology; local, state, and federal requirements; characteristics of children with disabilities; IEP and IFSP requirements and management; cultural diversity; screening, diagnosis, and assessment of young children who need special services; learning center and home-based service delivery; curriculum and instructional considerations; and, relating to, involving, and supporting families of children with disabilities. 24 field hours. Course Fee: $15. 1 Course

EDS 435 Integrated Curriculum II: Arts, Humanities, and Science

Prerequisite: Admission to the Teacher Education Program

Offered: Typically every Spring Term (first offered Spring 2009)

This course is designed to engage students in constructing age appropriate curricula integrating the arts, humanities, and the natural sciences, and in the design and execution of assessment tools and teaching strategies appropriate to integrated learning. Students will plan and teach science in ways that account for wondering at the world, for seeking and honoring questions, and for the intensity of pursuing inquiry. They will plan and teach so their students will experience the arts and humanities as a host of languages that can be used and honed in the process of relating with the meaningful in their lives. Through these experiences, students will come to see the content of the arts, humanities, and sciences as perfect complements for making, finding, and sharing meaning, as well as narrative inquiry as a tool for making meaning in any content. Students will draw from the body of works and resources collected during EDS 335 as they engage children in group and individual inquiries. Experiences in this course are designed to help students further articulate the value of integrated learning for vitalizing Kentucky's Core Content for Assessment and Learning Goals, and to refine the alignment between their vision and their work. Taken concurrently with EDS 440, with a shared daily 4-hour practicum in the schools. 2 Courses

EDS 440 Integrated Curriculum III: Social Studies and Content Literacy

In this course, students will explore the structure of the elementary social studies and investigate ways to integrate rich social-studies content with developmentally appropriate content-area literacy instruction. Through teacher modeling, direct instruction, and cooperative and individual learning activities, students will explore strategies to help P-5 children meaningfully engage key social-studies concepts and ideas while developing competence in reading expository materials. Students will learn to assist children in conducting individual and group research using a variety of resources, including textbooks, supplementary trade books, the Internet, and interviews. Embedded in these experiences will be focused instruction to help children grapple with unfamiliar vocabulary, question what they read, draw inferences, synthesize understandings from multiple sources, and share their findings with others. In the daily practicum, students will integrate their developing knowledge with their own vision for the children they teach and with constructivist principles of human development as they design, teach, and assess a variety of integrated learning experiences, including web quests and interdisciplinary units. Taken concurrently with EDS 435, with a shared daily 4-hour practicum in the schools. 1 Courses

EDS 479 Learning and Assessment in Secondary Classrooms

Prerequisite: Admission to the Teacher Education Program

This course introduces students to applications of important learning and assessment theory in shaping pedagogical practice. Particular attention will be given to Howard Gardner's theory of multiple intelligences and to the sociocultural theory of Lev Vygotsky. Students will explore the theoretical underpinnings of behaviorist and constructivist traditions in designing instruction; targeting objectives to appropriate levels of a taxonomy of instructional objectives; designing and managing classroom environments conducive to student learning; developing appropriate strategies for implementing instruction; and exploring evaluation theory and applications of both formal and informal assessments. Special attention is directed to preparing performance evidence of addressing New Teacher Standards I-IV. This course is taken as part of the pre-professional block in the Teacher Education Program, which includes a partial-day field assignment in local schools. 1 Course

EDS 480 Students with Special Needs-Secondary

Prerequisite: Admission to the Teacher Education Program

This course prepares prospective teachers to make the instructional and organizational modifications necessary so that students with vastly different academic, physical, emotional, and social needs can learn in the regular secondary-school classroom. The focus is on youngsters with a variety of special needs, such as physical and learning exceptionalities (including the gifted); bilingualism; lack of readiness for learning; and violent behaviors. Working with the students in the classrooms where they are completing their teaching practicum, prospective teachers will address the special classroom- management requirements and the special instructional needs arising with special-needs youngsters. Students also will explore related issues, including the need to develop skills in counseling and conflict resolution and understanding the nature of family involvement and the particular policies and procedures schools follow.

This course is taken as part of the pre-professional block in the Teacher Education Program, which includes a partial-day practicum in local schools. I Course

EDS 481 Secondary Student Teaching Seminar

Prerequisite: Admission to Student Teaching

Emphasis in this course is on the development of appropriate instructional units for the assigned Student Teaching settings. Students work with classroom teachers and College faculty to plan and develop activities and materials focused on the specific subject matter in which the student is seeking certification. Other topics include classroom-management techniques, evaluation and assessment of student learning, and motivational techniques. Student teachers are to reflect the values and commitments undergirding Berea's Teacher Education Program in their work and relationships with children, peers, parents, mentors, and other colleagues, and they are expected to meet Berea's program goals prior to completion of the Professional Year. They will be required to submit a satisfactory exit portfolio addressing the New Teacher Standards established by the Kentucky Education Professional Standards Board. Taken concurrently with EDS 482. 1 Course

Prerequisite: GSTR 110 AND one entry-level course in PSY, SOC, CFS, or NUR

Offered: Typically alternate Short Terms (next offered Short Term 2010)

Dance in Healing and Therapy is designed to introduce the student to: 1) the ways dance and movement can lead to understanding of oneself and of others as thinking, feeling, and sensing beings, and 2) ways dance and movement can be used for personal development for people of varying psychological or emotional abilities. The course is grounded in Laban Movement Analysis, a system widely used in dance and movement as healing and therapy. Meets PED .25-credit Activity requirement. 1 Course

PED 244 Physical Education Activities for the Elementary Child

A study of the theory and principles of movement for the elementary-school child with emphasis on the analysis of basic movement, motor development, low-organizational games, lead-up games for sports, and creative movement. Selection and progression of movement skills and knowledge in relation to teaching physical activity will be introduced. 1 Course

PEH 330 Extended School Experience for Physical Education Majors and Health Minors

Prerequisites: Admission to the Teacher Education Program and satisfactory completion of a major or minor course that has a methods component (chosen from PED 244, 245, 246, 247, 250, 251, 362, or HLT 315)

Offered: Typically every Short Term

This course is designed as an advanced-level practicum to allow students an opportunity to integrate teaching skills and understandings in a school setting. This experience enables students to compile evidence that they meet the performance indicators required for admission to Student Teaching. In the course of the practicum, students will be expected to demonstrate the ability to teach in a manner that invites integration with their students, including the ability to formulate and use appropriate and effective questioning strategies. Students also will keep a journal of daily reflections that reveals the depth of their ability to learn from their own teaching. Students will be expected to plan and implement at least one unit (related sequence of lessons) of instruction, including: 1) a completed unit plan with goals and objectives; 2) a supporting rationale; 3) a detailed activity outline; 4) a statement describing modes of assessment and samples of student work; 5) an annotated bibliography of materials and texts for students; and 6) an annotated bibliography of readings done in preparation for teaching the unit. It is expected that students will draw from the materials created in this course for entries in their Education portfolios; therefore, a reflective self-assessment should be included with the unit and a statement of evaluation should be obtained from the cooperating teacher. 1 Course

PED 248 World Dance

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Spring 2009)

Explores dance of African and Asian nations in cultural context and in the context of dance of other countries. The goal of the class is to increase understanding and appreciation of the diversity of ways in which individuals, communities, and groups define themselves in movement, and to develop awareness of dance as a form of cultural expression. At the conclusion of the course, students will examine ways in which African and Asian dance styles have influenced American dance and culture. The class will include dancing, video viewing, interviews with international students, reading, and writing of research and analysis papers. Arts Perspective and World Culture (Non-Western) component of the International Perspective. 1 Course

PED 249 Dancing Through Space and Time

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2009, as an exception)

This course will introduce students to the historical, theoretical, and critical elements of dance. Students will explore the role that dance has played in society throughout history and in contemporary life. Experiences in class will include reading, discussion, video viewing, movement exploration, creative-process activities, and group presentations. Arts Perspective. OTE: Noncredit for students who completed this course as GSTR 109. 1 Course

PED 250 Aquatics

Prerequisites: Ability to swim several lengths of the pool using more than one stroke, tread water, and retrieve 10 pounds from bottom of the deep end of the pool

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2009)

Provides the student with knowledge, skills, and possible American Red Cross certification in community water safety, lifeguard training, and water-safety instructor to teach swimming to all ages. 1 Course

PED 251 Gymnastics

Prerequisite: PEH 100 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2008)

Provides the student with the knowledge and skills required to teach gymnastics to school-aged children. Material covered will include gymnastics from a skill-theme and movement-concept approach, as well as a more formal/traditional approach. Experiences will include peer teaching, workshop teaching, planning instruction, skill performance, and assessment. 1 Course

PED 260 Care and Prevention of Athletic Injuries

Prerequisite: B10 101 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Short Term 2009)

A brief overview of the mechanism, prevention, management, and rehabilitation of athletic injuries. Practical experience includes the performance of simple taping procedures to the major joints of the body, along with the recognition of selected health problems related to athletics. In addition, time will be set aside for students to qualify for American Red Cross CPR Certification. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed PED 309. 1 Course

PED 280 Adapted Physical Education

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2010)

Will focus on developing knowledge of current concepts and practices in adapted physical education. Course topics will cover assessment, planning, and implementation of physical-education activities for people with unique needs and abilities. 1 Course

PED 305 Improvisation and Choreography

Prerequisite: Berea College Dance experience or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2009)

Students will use movement improvisation to explore themes and ideas, will use movement discovered through improvisation to create choreography, and will engage in thoughtful reflection on the work they are doing. Arts Perspective. 1 Course

PED 343 Exercise Physiology

Prerequisites: Completion or waiver of MAT 012; B10 101; AND GSTR 110

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

Human anatomical systems and their physiological functions with special emphasis on the muscular, nervous, skeletal, circulatory, and respiratory systems as they apply to physical activity. Immediate and long-term effects of physical exercise on the human body. Analysis of techniques related to physical-fitness evaluation, conditioning, and training principles; and current research in exercise physiology. 1 Course

PED 353 Kinesiology and Biomechanics

Prerequisites: Completion or waiver of MAT 012; B10 101; and GSTR 110

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2009)

The study of joint and muscle function and the mechanical principles governing human motion. Anatomical and mechanical analysis of physical-education activities and basic skills. Fundamentals of body mechanics, statics, and dynamics; and analysis of human motion. 1 Course

PED 355 Leadership and Program Development

Prerequisites: Junior standing and successful completion of three PED major courses

An introduction to principles and techniques of leadership and management in well ness, recreational, and physical-education settings. Students will learn fundamental concepts for program planning, development, implementation, and assessment; board development; community relations, program marketing, and development of a participant base; fiscal management; facilities; equipment; and resource planning, acquisition, and evaluation. The class takes a practical, hands-on approach. 1/2 Course

PED 360 Advanced Athletic Training

Prerequisites: B10 101 and PED 260 (formerly 309)

Offered: Typically every third year (next offered Spring 2009)

Will provide those students interested in athletic training, physical therapy, or other sports-medicine fields with advanced knowledge and skills relating to sports medicine. Content will include administrative tasks, legal aspects, pharmacology, therapeutic modalities, evaluation skills, and rehabilitation protocols, as well as other related topics. 1 Course

PED 362 Teaching and Evaluation in Physical Education

Prerequisites: Completion or waiver of MAT 012; completion of two PED major courses

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2009)

Curriculum design and theory and application of various teaching strategies and methods for Physical Education required for P-12 Certification majors. Introduction to basic statistical procedures. A review of evaluative techniques for individual and program accomplishments. 1 Course

PED 364 Motor Learning and Psychology of Sport & Physical Activity

Prerequisites: Completion or waiver of MAT 0/2; PED 343; and B10 101

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2010)

The study of the principles of motor learning and the variables affecting the learning process, motor-development theory, the integration of neuro-physiological and behavioral information, and the psychological theories and techniques for the enhancement of sport and physical-activity performance. 1 Course

PED 444 Exercise Assessment and Prescription

Prerequisites: Completion or waiver of MA T 012; BIO 101; AND PED 343

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2010)

This course will provide students with the knowledge to understand the link between exercise, health, and disease. The information presented in the course will cover appropriate tools for assessing fitness and developing prescriptive exercise programs. The course content will include: 1) study of assessment techniques for all components of fitness; 2) application of assessment tools for various populations; 3) interpretation of assessment results; and 4) development of exercise programs based upon the assessment outcomes. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed this course as PED 344. 1 Course

Prerequisites: Determined by instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See p. 51 of this Catalog. 1/2 or 1 Course

PED 390/490A or B Independent Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 390; senior standing for 490

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

PED 492 Physical Education Seminar

Prerequisites: BIO 101; either PED 343, 353, or 364; and one additional PED major course; junior or senior standing

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

Emphasizes exploration of professional opportunities and scientific investigation in the field of physical education. Students explore areas of personal career interest, prepare a review of recent literature or a paper based on their primary research, and make a formal oral presentation. Discussion and evaluation of oral reports and presentations by resource persons are included. Required of all Physical Education majors. 1/2 Course

PED 395/495 Internship

Offered: Typically every term

PED 397/497A or B Team Initiated Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 397; senior standing for 497

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

PED 398/498 Directed Study

Prerequisites: Will vary, but a/ways will include permission of instructor

Offered: Typically on a limited basis as student interest and faculty availability allow

PED 200 Survival Swimming

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Designed for individuals who have had no previous experience in swimming or those whose skills are such that they would be at risk in most aquatic situations. The course emphasizes elementary strokes, survival flotation, treading, firming, sculling, water entry, and on-land rescues. Class meets three hours each week. 1/4 Course

PED 206 Concentration Intercollegiate Team Competition

Offered: Typically varies, depending on sport

Limit of one PED 206 credit for a particular sport. Minimum requirement of 75-percent participation and special knowledge evaluation. Coaches will use their discretion relative to credit for the course and students who are injured. Students must register for the course in all terms for which a particular sport is scheduled. For example, intercollegiate basketball is scheduled during both Fall and Spring Terms. Students must be registered for PED 206G or 206H during both terms to receive the 1/4 credit. Students must register by specific section as follows:

206 A. Soccer - Men

206 B. Soccer - Women

206 C. Tennis - Women

206 D. Cross Country - Men and Women

206 E. Swimming - Men and Women

206 F. Volleyball - Women

206 G. Basketball - Women (see above note)
206 H. Basketball - Men (see above note)
206 I. Track and Field - Men
206 J. Track and Field - Women
206 K. Tennis - Men
206 L. Baseball
206 N. Softball - Women
1/4 Course Each

PED 203 Individualized Physical Education

Prerequisites: PEH 100 and approval of the Department Chairperson and College Health Service

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Spring 2009)

Intended for those students who are unable, for medical reasons, to take any of the general PED activity courses. An individual program will be developed by the Physical Education and Health Department.

PED 206Y Modern Dance Troupe

Prerequisites: One full year of membership in the Modern Dance Troupe and permission of instructor

To receive credit, students must participate for one regular term, perform in the Modern Dance Concert, and participate in organizing and carrying it out. Limit of one regular-term PED 206Y for each student toward meeting the requirement for two 1/4-credit PED activity courses. 1/4 Course

PED 206Z Country Dancers

Prerequisites: One full year of previous membership in Country Dancers and permission of instructor

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Participation is required for one regular term to receive credit. Membership selected by tryouts.

Limit of one regular term PED 206Z for each student toward meeting the requirement for two 1/4-credit PED-activity courses. 1/4 Course

PED 209 Advanced Beginners and Intermediate Swimming

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

This course is designed for individuals who already are comfortable with basic survival and swimming skills, in shallow and deep water. Students will refine strokes, preparing student for swimming for fitness or for novice competition. The course includes a variety of water sports and activities. 1/4 Course

PED 211 Self Defense and Martial Arts I

Prerequisite: PEH 100 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

1/4 Course

PED 213 Golf

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

This course introduces the fundamental skills and knowledge to play golf at the beginning level. Students will learn basic swings, learn rules, etiquette, and strategies. They will develop and improve personal physical fitness and prepare for participation in golf as a lifetime sport. NOTE: Not open to students who have received credit for PED 206M. Course Fee: $5. 1/4 Course

PED 214 Badminton and Tennis

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

This course exposes student to the fundamental skills and knowledge of beginning badminton and tennis, and an appreciation for the lifetime recreational value of both sports. NOTE: Not open to students who have received credit for PED 206C or 206K. 1/4 Course

PED 215 Aerobic Dance

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Aerobic Dance develops aerobic fitness through rhythmic movements and dance. It emphasizes learning dynamic movement and doing whole body workouts. 1/4 Course

PED 216 Body Recall

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

Body Recall is an intergenerational and educational exercise experience. It is a program that is specifically developed to fit people of all ages and physical abilities, improving strength, flexibility, and balance. The slow and smooth exercises used help to reclaim range of movement that is pain free and possible, making living more pleasurable. Exercises are performed seated or standing, and make use of various equipment, such as balls, wands, and parachutes. 1/4 Course

PED 217 Walking for Fitness

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

This course is designed for individuals who would choose walking as a form of exercise for lifelong physical fitness. Initially, the class will start their walking program at a moderate fitness level and later develop form that is appropriate for vigorous training. 1/4 Course

PED 218 Weight Training

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

This course exposes the student to fundamental skills and knowledge of weight training and physical conditioning. Students learn to use equipment in the weight room and to develop a personal training program for lifetime fitness. 1/4 Course

PED 219 Advanced Swimming and Aquatic Arts

Prerequisite: PED 209 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Short term 2010)

This course is designed to give students an introduction to the theory and practice of Aquatic Art. This course seeks to enhance knowledge of, and appreciation for, the aesthetics of the body, water, and aquatic resources through artistic expression. Students will receive instruction in Aquatic Art vocabulary and performance. Following skill acquisition, students will apply their skills in the form of individual and group compositions. NOTE: Noncredit for students who took PED 308 during Short Term. 1/4 Course

PED 220 Stress Management

Prerequisite: PEH 100 or equivalent; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Introductory course designed to expose students to a holistic approach to stress management, including basic principles, theories, and relaxation techniques to effectively manage personal stress, and to assist students in understanding and managing stress as it relates to personal health and lifestyle in the areas of stress sources, responses, reduction, burnout, and prevention. Students taking this course will assess their own stress levels, and design personal dynamic stress interventions optimizing health. The course meets three hours each week. 1/4 Course

PED 221 Weight Management

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

Introduction to weight management with an emphasis on the importance of physical activity and healthful nutritional habits throughout one's lifetime. Topics will include the following: obesity, low body weight, eating disorders, physiology of weight gain/loss, exercise as the key to weight management, healthy weight gain, weight-loss myths/quackery, influence of the media on body image, losing/gaining weight in a healthy or sensible way, and nutritional aspects of weight management. 1/4 Course

PED 222 Water Fitness

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Students will explore varied water activities/exercises and then choose the ones desirable for them that can lead to the intrinsic improvement of fitness components and promote the extrinsic benefits of water exercise. The exercises generally are done in a vertical position and always with the face and head out of the water in shallow water and/or with flotation in deep water. There will be information on fitness swimming, but students do not have to be able to swim to take the class. 1/4 Course

PED 223A Outdoor Adventure Activities I

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

Introductory course designed to expose students to a variety of lifetime activities very different from traditional activities. Basic skills; equipment needs and selection; safety and etiquette; maintenance and repairs; and environmental awareness and minimal impact concerns will be presented. The types of activities offered will vary. PED 223A activities will include (but are not limited to) archery, cycling, canoeing, and cold weather backpacking/hiking. Some of these activities will require participation in some day, overnight, and/or early-morning outings. 1/4 Course

PED 223B Outdoor Adventure Activities II

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

Introductory course designed to expose students to a variety of lifetime activities very different from traditional activities. Basic skills; equipment needs and selection; safety and etiquette; maintenance and repairs; and environmental awareness and minimal impact concerns will be presented. The types of activities offered will vary. PED 223B activities will include (but are not limited to) cooperative activities/games, fly fishing, disc golf, orienteering, and circus arts (juggling, stilt walking, unicycling, and yo-yoing), Some of these activities will require participation in some day, overnight, and/or early-morning outings. 1/4 Course

PED 224 Modern Dance I

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2009)

An introduction to contemporary concert dance technique and performance. Students will participate actively in dance classes three hours each week, developing facility of movement, and learning modern-dance technique and improvisation, as well as basic principles of choreography. The goal of the class is to develop dance skills and to prepare the student for future participation in modern dance as a lifelong activity. 1/4 Course

PED 226 Racquetball

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Students will develop racquetball knowledge and skills which will enable them to engage in this lifetime activity. They will learn offensive and defensive strokes, rules, and strategies. 1/4 Course

PED 227 Movement for the Stage

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered term yet to be determined)

Studies and exercises to aid the acting student or vocal performer in understanding the physical aspects of character: physical and emotional energy flow, body placement, use of space, and relationship with other performers. 1/4 Course

PED 228 Social and Folk Dance

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

An introduction to popular forms and styles of social dance and folk dance, and folk dance forms from around the world. Students will participate actively in Dance classes three hours each week, learning skills and styles of couple dances, such as waltz, swing, salsa, and polka, and of group dances, such as contra, square, and international dances. The goal of the class is to prepare students for a lifetime of participation in social and folk dance. 1/4 Course

PED 229 Beginning Jazz Dance

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2010)

This course is designed to introduce the beginning Dance student to jazz dance. The content of the course will include a brief look at the roots of jazz dance, jazz dance in relationship to jazz music, and the various jazz dance styles including popular, old-style, blues, and modern. 1/4 Course

PED 230 Beginning Ballet

Prerequisite: PEH 100

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2009)

This course is designed to introduce the beginning Dance student to ballet technique. The content of the class will include a brief history of ballet, basic information about ballet as an art form, using ballet as a means to improve body awareness and alignment, and using ballet technique. 1/4 Course

PED 231 Self Defense and Martial Arts II

Prerequisite: PEH 100 or PED 211 or equivalent; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

This course offers intermediate-level instruction in traditional Kung-Fu forms consisting of offensive and defensive maneuvers in a series of block, kicks, strikes, and formal stances. The forms have practical self-defense applications, and will enhance mental and physical focus, balance, cardiovascular health, strength, agility, and coordination. Instruction also includes hand-to-hand defense techniques, ground defense, and information on concentration, relaxation, and assault prevention. 1/4 Course

PED 234 Gymnastics

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Spring 2009)

In this course, students will learn basic gymnastic skills, with emphasis on the development of personal skills and active participation in class. Students will be introduced to injury prevention and treatment, resistance training related to gymnastics, and proper warm-up techniques. 1/4 Course

PED 236 Volleyball and Recreation Games

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

This course provides the student with basic knowledge and practice of several recreational games, which may include volleyball, wally ball, frisbee golf, ultimate frisbee, croquet, pickle-ball, racquetball, scooter soccer, and darts. It provides a variety of activities that the student may continue to enjoy with friends and family beyond the semester in the pursuit of lifetime wellness. NOTE: Not open to students who have completed PED 206F. 1/4 Course

PED 237 Hiking and Campcraft

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

This course is designed to familiarize students with the outdoors through a variety of activities. Hiking, backpacking, and camping techniques will be introduced along with lessons in survival skills. 1/4 Course

PED 238 Fencing

Prerequisite: PEH 100 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Spring 2009)

This course introduces students to good fencing skill performance, including attack and defense strategies, as well as safety and etiquette and the courtesies of fencing. 1/4 Course

PED 310 Advanced Swimming-Lifeguard Training

Prerequisite: PEH 100 and intermediate swimming proficiency OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

This course guides refinement of swimming skills selected to increase preparedness for Lifeguard training. This course provides instruction of American Red Cross (ARC) Lifeguard Training skills (also including CPR for the Professional Rescuer, use of an Automated External Defibrillator and First Aid). 1/4 Course

PED 332 Modern Dance II

Prerequisite: PEH 100 and PED 224 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2008)

Designed for the student who has had some previous experience in Modern Dance (or has taken PED 224), this course will continue to explore the body as an instrument of expression and how to broaden one's movement range in doing so. The course will consist of experiences in body awareness, technique, improvisation/exploration, and performance. 1/4 Course

Health

HLT 109 Comprehensive First Aid

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Spring 2009)

A comprehensive course in the latest techniques and procedures in meeting accident and illness emergencies, such as stoppage of breathing, cardiac arrest, airway obstruction, severe bleeding, poisoning, fractures, burns, shock, heat or cold related emergencies, seizures, and sudden illness. Two

American Red Cross certificates-Community CPR and Community First Aid and Safety-can be earned. Course Fee: $5. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed this course as PED 209. 1 Course

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

This course examines the biological, psychological, social, and ethical factors that affect human sexuality and interpersonal relationships. Through lecture, small- and large-group discussions, debates, audiovisuals, guest speakers, and directed reading assignments, the focus will be on reality-oriented sexual behavior and attitudes, needs, and interests of college students; positive satisfaction, obligations, and responsibilities to self and others; sexual deviance; influence of society; and changing mores, roles, and lifestyles. Special emphasis will be on examining one's own values. The intent is to educate, not to indoctrinate. 1 Course

HL T 210 Health in Appalachia (APS)

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Spring 2009)

This course explores various dimensions of the environment that impact the health of individuals and the communities in which they live within the Appalachian region. Topics addressed include: education, religion, industrialization, economic development, access to health care, sexuality, domestic violence, race and ethnicity, and substance abuse. This class is designed for the non-professional interested in the health needs of all people living in the Appalachian region and will include directed readings, lectures, discussions, films, guest speakers, and field trips. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

HLT 215 Significant Issues in Personal Health

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

This course is a study of health education and health promotion as it relates to person health and well-being. Among the topics included for exploration will be the meaning of health and wholeness, history of health education and health promotion, and theories and models for learning and behavior change. The knowledge is applicable to students for affecting change on an individual basis and within their community. This serves as the introductory course for students entering the Health Minor. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed HLT 115. 1 Course

HLT 224 Addiction and Violence in the Family

Prerequisites: PEH 100 or permission; and GSTR 110

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered in Spring 2009)

This course explores family dynamics from a family systems perspective and examines how those dynamics are affected by addiction and violence. Topics include impact on children and their future relationships, domestic violence, trauma healing, prevention, intervention, and treatment options. 1 Course

HLT 315 Health Education

Prerequisites: PEH 100; GSTR 110; and one other HLT course

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2008)

Stressing psychological, social, and physical implications, the major emphases of this course are: creative teaching; introduction to philosophy/history of health education; and of community health and applications of certain priority topics (mental health, family life and sex education, substance-abuse education, healthcare and disease control, and others) at both the elementary and secondary levels (P-12). Stresses the need for developing positive health behavior and health-education programs that are health-related rather than disease-oriented. 1 Course

HLT 318 Emotional and Mental Health

Prerequisites: PEH 100; GSTR 110; and HLT 215

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Short Term 2009)

A study of the mind and body connection to holistic health. Strategies an individual can use to attain positive emotional and mental health through awareness of cognition, early experiences, and self-concept/self-esteem, and belief systems. The course also will review the impact of emotional and psychological abuse, self-esteem, loss and transitions, and suicide prevention, intervention, and postvention. This course is designed to be educational, not therapeutic. 1 Course

HLT 186/286/386/486 Special Topics

Prerequisites: Determined by instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

HL T 390/490A or B Independent Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 390; senior standing for 490

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

HL T 395/495 Internship

Offered: Typically every term

HLT 397/497A or B Team Initiated Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 397; senior standing for 497

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

HLT 398/498 Directed Study

Prerequisites: Will vary, but always will include permission of instructor

Offered: Typically on a limited basis as student interest and faculty availability allow

Physics

PHY 111 Introduction to Astronomy

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

This course will explore topics in modern astronomy, including the formation of the solar system, the lives and deaths of stars, the structure of the galaxy, and the origin and evolution of the universe. Both lecture and lab will emphasize a hands-on approach to understanding the underlying physical principles that govern astronomy. Three one-hour lecture periods and one two-hour laboratory each week. Practical Reasoning with Quantitative Emphasis (PRQ). Course Fee: $20. 1 Course

PHY 217 General Physics I with Algebra

Prerequisite: Completion or waiver of MAT 115 (or concurrent enrollment)

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

First half of a two-course sequence stressing the basic concepts of physics and problem solving, suitable for the student intending to major in the physical sciences, as well as for students in the life sciences and arts who seek a liberal-arts course in classical and modern physics. Topics include Newtonian Mechanics, heat, and energy. Three one-hour periods each week and one two-hour period for discussion or laboratory work. 1 Course

PHY 218 General Physics II with Algebra

Prerequisite: PHY 217; completion or waiver of MAT 125 (or concurrent enrollment); OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

Second half of the introductory physics sequence. Topics include wave motion, fluids, electricity & magnetism, electric circuits, light and optics. Three one-hour periods each week plus one two-hour period for discussion or laboratory work, where appropriate. 1 Course

PHY 315 Introductory Physics I with Calculus

Prerequisite: MAT 135 (or waiver) or concurrent enrollment

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

This is the first half of a two-course sequence in classical physics with calculus. The focus of the first term is classical mechanics, with emphasis on the relationship between force, momentum, and energy. Topics to be covered include Newtonian dynamics, fundamental forces, conservation of momentum and energy, and rotational motion. Three one-hour lectures and one two-hour laboratory each week. 1 Course

PHY 316 Introductory Physics II with Calculus

Prerequisites: PHY 315 and MAT 225, or concurrent enrollment

Offered: Typically every Fall Term (not offered in 2008, as an exception)

A continuation of the introductory sequence in classical physics with calculus. The second term will focus on the phenomena of electromagnetism and waves. Topics include wave motion, electrostatics, electric and magnetic fields, fundamentals of DC circuits, and electromagnetism. Three one-hour lectures and one two-hour laboratory each week. 1 Course

PHY 320 Modern Physics

Prerequisites: PHY 316 and MAT 135 (or waiver); OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

This course provides an introduction to topics in 20th century physics including relativity, introductory quantum mechanics, and atomic and nuclear physics. Other topics of interest may be covered as time allows. Four one-hour lectures each week. 1 Course

PHY 325 Mathematical Methods in Physics I

Prerequisites: PHY 315 and MAT 135 (or waiver), or concurrent enrollment; OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

This course stresses applications of Mathematical methods and techniques to Physics that are needed in the physical sciences. Topics generally include: simple functions of applied math, quadratic and higher-power equations, simultaneous equations, matrices, determinants, eigenvalues and eigenvectors, geometry, vectors, complex numbers, series and approximations, differential operators, and simple integration. Four hours of lectures each week. 1 Course

PHY 330 Mathematical Methods in Physics II

Prerequisites: PHY 325 and MAT 225; OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

A course of applied mathematics and techniques often required in physics. Topics may vary, but will generally include partial differential equations and boundary value problems, Fourier analysis and integral transforms, complex integration, group representations, matrices, and determinants. Four hours of lectures each week. 1 Course

PHY 335 Physical Optics

Prerequisites: PHY 316 or permission of instructor; AND MAT225

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (next offered Spring 2009)

The wave nature of light is presented and optical phenomena explained in terms of the model. Modern topics in optics revolving around the laser are included. Three one-hour lectures and one two-hour laboratory session each week. 1 Course

PHY 341 Advanced General Laboratory

Prerequisite: PHY 218

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (next offered Fall 2009)

A laboratory course dealing with some of the important experimental techniques in modern physics involving experience with such things as vacuum systems; electronic design and shop construction; classical experiments in contemporary physics; and independent research projects. One three-hour laboratory session each week. May be repeated for credit for sequential or differing learning experiences. 1/4 Course

PHY 365 Thermal Physics

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (next offered Spring 2009)

An intermediate course covering classical thermodynamics and the methods of statistical mechanics. Topics covered include the first and second laws of thermodynamics, with applications, statistical theory of entropy, and classical and quantum ensembles. Four one-hour lectures each week. 1 Course

PHY 460 Electromagnetic Theory

Prerequisites: PHY 316 and MAT 330; OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Fall 2008, as an exception)

An introduction to the fundamentals of classical electricity and magnetism and electromagnetic waves. Emphasizing vector analysis and the laws of Coulomb, Faraday, and Ampere, leading to the development of Maxwell's Theory. Four one-hour lectures each week. 1 Course

PHY 481 Classical Mechanics

Prerequisites: PHY 315 and MAT 330

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

A course covering topics in Newtonian and Lagrangian Mechanics. Topics include rectilinear motion, oscillations, three-dimensional motion, central forces, generalized coordinates and momenta, and Lagrange multipliers. 1 Course

PHY 482 Quantum Physics

Prerequisites: PHY 320 and 481; OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2009)

An intermediate course in quantum mechanics, with applications. Topics include Schrodinger's equation, particle in a box, the harmonic oscillator, the hydrogen atom, perturbation theory, and the WKB approximation. Four one-hour lectures each week. 1 Course

PHY 485 Introduction to Solid-State Physics

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (next offered Fall 2009)

This course provides an introduction to the area of solid-state physics. Topics to be covered include crystal structure; diffraction of waves by crystals; thermal properties of solids; dielectric properties of solids; free electron model of metals; band theory; magnetism and magnetic resonance; and superconductivity. Four one-hour lectures each week. 1 Course

PHY 186/286/386/486 Special Topics

Prerequisites: Determined by course instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See p. 51 of this Catalog. NOTE: Studies in a specialized area of instructor's and student's interest, such as solid-state physics, thermodynamics, quantum mechanics, optics, radiation physics, etc. Laboratory and discussion sessions will be stressed, with students largely responsible for the progress of the course. 1/2 or 1 Course

PHY 390/490A or B Independent Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 390; senior standing for 490

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

PHY 492 Physics Seminar

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

A course centered around readings, experiments, and research on topics approved by departmental faculty. The seminar emphasizes oral presentations, discussion, and preparation of written reports. Normally taken in the senior year, it is open to other advanced students with permission. 1/4 Course

PHY 395/495 Internship

Offered: Typically every term

PHY 397/497A or B Team Initiated Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 397; senior standing for 497

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

PHY 398/498 Directed Study

Prerequisites: Will vary, but always will include permission of instructor

Physical Education and Health

PEH 220 Health and Movement Studies for Elementary Educators

Prerequisite: PEH 100

Offered: Typically every Fall Term (offered Fall 2008 for prospective Elementary certification majors and Fall 2009 for IECE majors)

Study of fundamental movement concepts and the foundations of good health in preparation for helping students in pre-school through grade 5 to understand and apply these concepts. Students will learn to structure age-appropriate movement experiences that encourage self-expression and social interaction, and develop motor skills, as well as convey important health concepts such as the structure and function of the human body and ways to achieve fitness and a healthy lifestyle. Practical teaching experience with children is included in the course. PEH 220 is limited to those students seeking a degree in Education Studies with Elementary Certification, P-5, or Interdisciplinary Early Childhood Education (IECE) with Teacher Certification (the latter a concentration in the Child and Family Studies Department). NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed PEH 120. 1 Course

PED 131 Scope of Human Voluntary Movement

An introduction to the basic understandings and key concepts of the importance of human movement. Emphasis on the history and philosophies of physical education and the sociology of sport and physical activity. Brief survey of biological and psychological backgrounds of physical education. 1 Course

PED 233 Dance in Healing and Therapy

Offered: Typically alternate Short Terms (next offered Short Term 2010)

Dance in Healing and Therapy is designed to introduce the student to: 1) the ways dance and movement can lead to understanding of oneself and of others as thinking, feeling, and sensing beings, and 2) ways dance and movement can be used for personal development for people of varying psychological or emotional abilities. The course is grounded in Laban Movement Analysis, a system widely used in dance and movement as healing and therapy. Meets PED .25-credit Activity requirement. 1 Course

A study of the theory and principles of movement for the elementary-school child with emphasis on the analysis of basic movement, motor development, low-organizational games, lead-up games for sports, and creative movement. Selection and progression of movement skills and knowledge in relation to teaching physical activity will be introduced. 1 Course

Prerequisites: Admission to the Teacher Education Program and satisfactory completion of a major or minor course that has a methods component (chosen from PED 244, 245, 246, 247, 250, 251, 362, or HLT 315)

Offered: Typically every Short Term

This course is designed as an advanced-level practicum to allow students an opportunity to integrate teaching skills and understandings in a school setting. This experience enables students to compile evidence that they meet the performance indicators required for admission to Student Teaching. In the course of the practicum, students will be expected to demonstrate the ability to teach in a manner that invites integration with their students, including the ability to formulate and use appropriate and effective questioning strategies. Students also will keep a journal of daily reflections that reveals the depth of their ability to learn from their own teaching. Students will be expected to plan and implement at least one unit (related sequence of lessons) of instruction, including: 1) a completed unit plan with goals and objectives; 2) a supporting rationale; 3) a detailed activity outline; 4) a statement describing modes of assessment and samples of student work; 5) an annotated bibliography of materials and texts for students; and 6) an annotated bibliography of readings done in preparation for teaching the unit. It is expected that students will draw from the materials created in this course for entries in their Education portfolios; therefore, a reflective self-assessment should be included with the unit and a statement of evaluation should be obtained from the cooperating teacher. 1 Course

PED 245 Dance

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2010)

A comprehensive dance course dealing with basic-movement skills and creative-teaching approaches in social, folk, square, and modern dance. Study of dance as an art form and the place of dance in education will be included. A portion of the class will be directly focused on dance for children, especially creative dance and elementary folk and square dance. Arts Perspective. NOTE: May be approved on a term-by-term basis to meet the Active Learning Experience. (Check the Schedule of Classes and BOND to see if this course is approved for the term in which the student plans to take the course). 1 Course

PED 246 Individual and Team Sports I

Prerequisite: PEH 100 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2008)

The philosophy of competition and coaching and practical officiating. Individualized teaching procedures will be used. This course will include a two-hour laboratory experience. 1 Course

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Spring 2009)

Explores dance of African and Asian nations in cultural context and in the context of dance of other countries. The goal of the class is to increase understanding and appreciation of the diversity of ways in which individuals, communities, and groups define themselves in movement, and to develop awareness of dance as a form of cultural expression. At the conclusion of the course, students will examine ways in which African and Asian dance styles have influenced American dance and culture. The class will include dancing, video viewing, interviews with international students, reading, and writing of research and analysis papers. Arts Perspective and World Culture (Non-Western) component of the International Perspective. 1 Course

PED 249 Dancing Through Space and Time

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2009, as an exception)

This course will introduce students to the historical, theoretical, and critical elements of dance. Students will explore the role that dance has played in society throughout history and in contemporary life. Experiences in class will include reading, discussion, video viewing, movement exploration, creative-process activities, and group presentations. Arts Perspective. OTE: Noncredit for students who completed this course as GSTR 109. 1 Course

PED 250 Aquatics

Prerequisites: Ability to swim several lengths of the pool using more than one stroke, tread water, and retrieve 10 pounds from bottom of the deep end of the pool

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2009)

Provides the student with knowledge, skills, and possible American Red Cross certification in community water safety, lifeguard training, and water-safety instructor to teach swimming to all ages. 1 Course

PED 251 Gymnastics

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2008)

Provides the student with the knowledge and skills required to teach gymnastics to school-aged children. Material covered will include gymnastics from a skill-theme and movement-concept approach, as well as a more formal/traditional approach. Experiences will include peer teaching, workshop teaching, planning instruction, skill performance, and assessment. 1 Course

PED 260 Care and Prevention of Athletic Injuries

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Short Term 2009)

A brief overview of the mechanism, prevention, management, and rehabilitation of athletic injuries. Practical experience includes the performance of simple taping procedures to the major joints of the body, along with the recognition of selected health problems related to athletics. In addition, time will be set aside for students to qualify for American Red Cross CPR Certification. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed PED 309. 1 Course

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2010)

Will focus on developing knowledge of current concepts and practices in adapted physical education. Course topics will cover assessment, planning, and implementation of physical-education activities for people with unique needs and abilities. 1 Course

PED 305 Improvisation and Choreography

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2009)

Students will use movement improvisation to explore themes and ideas, will use movement discovered through improvisation to create choreography, and will engage in thoughtful reflection on the work they are doing. Arts Perspective. 1 Course

Prerequisites: Completion or waiver of MAT 012; BIO 101; AND GSTR 110

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

Human anatomical systems and their physiological functions with special emphasis on the muscular, nervous, skeletal, circulatory, and respiratory systems as they apply to physical activity. Immediate and long-term effects of physical exercise on the human body. Analysis of techniques related to physical-fitness evaluation, conditioning, and training principles; and current research in exercise physiology. 1 Course

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2009)

The study of joint and muscle function and the mechanical principles governing human motion. Anatomical and mechanical analysis of physical-education activities and basic skills. Fundamentals of body mechanics, statics, and dynamics; and analysis of human motion. 1 Course

PED 355 Leadership and Program Development

An introduction to principles and techniques of leadership and management in well ness, recreational, and physical-education settings. Students will learn fundamental concepts for program planning, development, implementation, and assessment; board development; community relations, program marketing, and development of a participant base; fiscal management; facilities; equipment; and resource planning, acquisition, and evaluation. The class takes a practical, hands-on approach. 1/2 Course

Prerequisites: B10 101 and PED 260 (formerly 309)

Offered: Typically every third year (next offered Spring 2009)

Will provide those students interested in athletic training, physical therapy, or other sports-medicine fields with advanced knowledge and skills relating to sports medicine. Content will include administrative tasks, legal aspects, pharmacology, therapeutic modalities, evaluation skills, and rehabilitation protocols, as well as other related topics. 1 Course

PED 362 Teaching and Evaluation in Physical Education

Prerequisites: Completion or waiver of MAT 012; completion of two PED major courses

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2009)

Curriculum design and theory and application of various teaching strategies and methods for Physical Education required for P-12 Certification majors. Introduction to basic statistical procedures. A review of evaluative techniques for individual and program accomplishments. 1 Course

PED 364 Motor Learning and Psychology of Sport & Physical Activity

Prerequisites: Completion or waiver of MAT 0/2; PED 343; and B10 101

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2010)

The study of the principles of motor learning and the variables affecting the learning process, motor-development theory, the integration of neuro-physiological and behavioral information, and the psychological theories and techniques for the enhancement of sport and physical-activity performance. 1 Course

PED 444 Exercise Assessment and Prescription

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2010)

This course will provide students with the knowledge to understand the link between exercise, health, and disease. The information presented in the course will cover appropriate tools for assessing fitness and developing prescriptive exercise programs. The course content will include: 1) study of assessment techniques for all components of fitness; 2) application of assessment tools for various populations; 3) interpretation of assessment results; and 4) development of exercise programs based upon the assessment outcomes. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed this course as PED 344. 1 Course

Prerequisites: Determined by instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See p. 51 of this Catalog. 1/2 or 1 Course

PED 390/490A or B Independent Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 390; senior standing for 490

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

PED 492 Physical Education Seminar

Prerequisites: BIO 101; either PED 343, 353, or 364; and one additional PED major course; junior or senior standing

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

Emphasizes exploration of professional opportunities and scientific investigation in the field of physical education. Students explore areas of personal career interest, prepare a review of recent literature or a paper based on their primary research, and make a formal oral presentation. Discussion and evaluation of oral reports and presentations by resource persons are included. Required of all Physical Education majors. 1/2 Course

PED 395/495 Internship

Prerequisite: Sophomore, junior, or senior standing

Offered: Typically every term

PED 397/497A or B Team Initiated Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 397; senior standing for 497

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

PED 398/498 Directed Study

Prerequisites: Will vary, but always will include permission of instructor

Offered: Typically on a limited basis as student interest and faculty availability allow

PED 200 Survival Swimming

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Designed for individuals who have had no previous experience in swimming or those whose skills are such that they would be at risk in most aquatic situations. The course emphasizes elementary strokes, survival flotation, treading, firming, sculling, water entry, and on-land rescues. Class meets three hours each week. 1/4 Course

PED 206 Concentration Intercollegiate Team Competition

Offered: Typically varies, depending on sport

Limit of one PED 206 credit for a particular sport. Minimum requirement of 75-percent participation and special knowledge evaluation. Coaches will use their discretion relative to credit for the course and students who are injured. Students must register for the course in all terms for which a particular sport is scheduled. For example, intercollegiate basketball is scheduled during both Fall and Spring Terms. Students must be registered for PED 206G or 206H during both terms to receive the 1/4 credit. Students must register by specific section as follows:

- 206 A. Soccer - Men
- 206 B. Soccer - Women
- 206 C. Tennis - Women
- 206 D. Cross Country - Men and Women
- 206 E. Swimming - Men and Women
- 206 F. Volleyball - Women
- 206 G. Basketball - Women (see above note)
- 206 H. Basketball - Men (see above note)
- 206 I. Track and Field - Men
- 206 J. Track and Field - Women
- 206 K. Tennis - Men
- 206 L. Baseball
- 206 M. Golf
- 206 N. Softball - Women
- 1/4 Course Each

PED 203 Individualized Physical Education

Prerequisites: PEH 100 and approval of the Department Chairperson and College Health Service

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Spring 2009)

Intended for those students who are unable, for medical reasons, to take any of the general PED activity courses. An individual program will be developed by the Physical Education and Health Department.

1/4 Course

PED 206Y Modern Dance Troupe

To receive credit, students must participate for one regular term, perform in the Modern Dance Concert, and participate in organizing and carrying it out. Limit of one regular-term PED 206Y for each student toward meeting the requirement for two 1/4-credit PED activity courses. 1/4 Course

Prerequisites: One full year of previous membership in Country Dancers and permission of instructor

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Participation is required for one regular term to receive credit. Membership selected by tryouts.

Limit of one regular term PED 206Z for each student toward meeting the requirement for two 1/4-credit PED-activity courses. 1/4 Course

PED 209 Advanced Beginners and Intermediate Swimming

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

This course is designed for individuals who already are comfortable with basic survival and swimming skills, in shallow and deep water. Students will refine strokes, preparing student for swimming for fitness or for novice competition. The course includes a variety of water sports and activities. 1/4 Course

PED 211 Self Defense and Martial Arts I

Prerequisite: PEH 100 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow 1/4 Course

PED 213 Golf

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

This course introduces the fundamental skills and knowledge to play golf at the beginning level. Students will learn basic swings, learn rules, etiquette, and strategies. They will develop and improve personal physical fitness and prepare for participation in golf as a lifetime sport. NOTE: Not open to students who have received credit for PED 206M. Course Fee: $5. 1/4 Course

PED 214 Badminton and Tennis

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

This course exposes student to the fundamental skills and knowledge of beginning badminton and tennis, and an appreciation for the lifetime recreational value of both sports. NOTE: Not open to students who have received credit for PED 206C or 206K. 1/4 Course

PED 215 Aerobic Dance

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Aerobic Dance develops aerobic fitness through rhythmic movements and dance. It emphasizes learning dynamic movement and doing whole body workouts. 1/4 Course

PED 216 Body Recall

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

Body Recall is an intergenerational and educational exercise experience. It is a program that is specifically developed to fit people of all ages and physical abilities, improving strength, flexibility, and balance. The slow and smooth exercises used help to reclaim range of movement that is pain free and possible, making living more pleasurable. Exercises are performed seated or standing, and make use of various equipment, such as balls, wands, and parachutes. 1/4 Course

PED 217 Walking for Fitness

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

This course is designed for individuals who would choose walking as a form of exercise for lifelong physical fitness. Initially, the class will start their walking program at a moderate fitness level and later develop form that is appropriate for vigorous training. 1/4 Course

PED 218 Weight Training

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

This course exposes the student to fundamental skills and knowledge of weight training and physical conditioning. Students learn to use equipment in the weight room and to develop a personal training program for lifetime fitness. 1/4 Course

PED 219 Advanced Swimming and Aquatic Arts

Prerequisite: PED 209 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Short term 2010)

This course is designed to give students an introduction to the theory and practice of Aquatic Art. This course seeks to enhance knowledge of, and appreciation for, the aesthetics of the body, water, and aquatic resources through artistic expression. Students will receive instruction in Aquatic Art vocabulary and performance. Following skill acquisition, students will apply their skills in the form of individual and group compositions. NOTE: Noncredit for students who took PED 308 during Short Term. 1/4 Course

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Introductory course designed to expose students to a holistic approach to stress management, including basic principles, theories, and relaxation techniques to effectively manage personal stress, and to assist students in understanding and managing stress as it relates to personal health and lifestyle in the areas of stress sources, responses, reduction, burnout, and prevention. Students taking this course will assess their own stress levels, and design personal dynamic stress interventions optimizing health. The course meets three hours each week. 1/4 Course

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

Introduction to weight management with an emphasis on the importance of physical activity and healthful nutritional habits throughout one's lifetime. Topics will include the following: obesity, low body weight, eating disorders, physiology of weight gain/loss, exercise as the key to weight management, healthy weight gain, weight-loss myths/quackery, influence of the media on body image, losing/gaining weight in a healthy or sensible way, and nutritional aspects of weight management. 1/4 Course

PED 222 Water Fitness

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Students will explore varied water activities/exercises and then choose the ones desirable for them that can lead to the intrinsic improvement of fitness components and promote the extrinsic benefits of water exercise. The exercises generally are done in a vertical position and always with the face and head out of the water in shallow water and/or with flotation in deep water. There will be information on fitness swimming, but students do not have to be able to swim to take the class. 1/4 Course

PED 223A Outdoor Adventure Activities I

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

Introductory course designed to expose students to a variety of lifetime activities very different from traditional activities. Basic skills; equipment needs and selection; safety and etiquette; maintenance and repairs; and environmental awareness and minimal impact concerns will be presented. The types of activities offered will vary. PED 223A activities will include (but are not limited to) archery, cycling, canoeing, and cold weather backpacking/hiking. Some of these activities will require participation in some day, overnight, and/or early-morning outings. 1/4 Course

PED 223B Outdoor Adventure Activities II

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

Introductory course designed to expose students to a variety of lifetime activities very different from traditional activities. Basic skills; equipment needs and selection; safety and etiquette; maintenance and repairs; and environmental awareness and minimal impact concerns will be presented. The types of activities offered will vary. PED 223B activities will include (but are not limited to) cooperative activities/games, fly fishing, disc golf, orienteering, and circus arts (juggling, stilt walking, unicycling, and yo-yoing), Some of these activities will require participation in some day, overnight, and/or early-morning outings. 1/4 Course

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2009)

An introduction to contemporary concert dance technique and performance. Students will participate actively in dance classes three hours each week, developing facility of movement, and learning modern-dance technique and improvisation, as well as basic principles of choreography. The goal of the class is to develop dance skills and to prepare the student for future participation in modern dance as a lifelong activity. 1/4 Course

PED 226 Racquetball

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Students will develop racquetball knowledge and skills which will enable them to engage in this lifetime activity. They will learn offensive and defensive strokes, rules, and strategies. 1/4 Course

PED 227 Movement for the Stage

Prerequisite: PEH 100 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered term yet to be determined)

Studies and exercises to aid the acting student or vocal performer in understanding the physical aspects of character: physical and emotional energy flow, body placement, use of space, and relationship with other performers. 1/4 Course

PED 228 Social and Folk Dance

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

An introduction to popular forms and styles of social dance and folk dance, and folk dance forms from around the world. Students will participate actively in Dance classes three hours each week, learning skills and styles of couple dances, such as waltz, swing, salsa, and polka, and of group dances, such as contra, square, and international dances. The goal of the class is to prepare students for a lifetime of participation in social and folk dance. 1/4 Course

PED 229 Beginning Jazz Dance

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2010)

This course is designed to introduce the beginning Dance student to jazz dance. The content of the course will include a brief look at the roots of jazz dance, jazz dance in relationship to jazz music, and the various jazz dance styles including popular, old-style, blues, and modern. 1/4 Course

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2009)

This course is designed to introduce the beginning Dance student to ballet technique. The content of the class will include a brief history of ballet, basic information about ballet as an art form, using ballet as a means to improve body awareness and alignment, and using ballet technique. 1/4 Course

PED 231 Self Defense and Martial Arts II

Prerequisite: PEH 100 or PED 211 or equivalent; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

This course offers intermediate-level instruction in traditional Kung-Fu forms consisting of offensive and defensive maneuvers in a series of block, kicks, strikes, and formal stances. The forms have practical self-defense applications, and will enhance mental and physical focus, balance, cardiovascular health, strength, agility, and coordination. Instruction also includes hand-to-hand defense techniques, ground defense, and information on concentration, relaxation, and assault prevention. 1/4 Course

PED 234 Gymnastics

Prerequisite: PEH 100 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Spring 2009)

In this course, students will learn basic gymnastic skills, with emphasis on the development of personal skills and active participation in class. Students will be introduced to injury prevention and treatment, resistance training related to gymnastics, and proper warm-up techniques. 1/4 Course

PED 236 Volleyball and Recreation Games

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

This course provides the student with basic knowledge and practice of several recreational games, which may include volleyball, wally ball, frisbee golf, ultimate frisbee, croquet, pickle-ball, racquetball, scooter soccer, and darts. It provides a variety of activities that the student may continue to enjoy with friends and family beyond the semester in the pursuit of lifetime wellness. NOTE: Not open to students who have completed PED 206F. 1/4 Course

PED 237 Hiking and Campcraft

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

This course is designed to familiarize students with the outdoors through a variety of activities. Hiking, backpacking, and camping techniques will be introduced along with lessons in survival skills. 1/4 Course

Prerequisite: PEH 100 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Spring 2009)

This course introduces students to good fencing skill performance, including attack and defense strategies, as well as safety and etiquette and the courtesies of fencing. 1/4 Course

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

This course guides refinement of swimming skills selected to increase preparedness for Lifeguard training. This course provides instruction of American Red Cross (ARC) Lifeguard Training skills (also including CPR for the Professional Rescuer, use of an Automated External Defibrillator and First Aid). 1/4 Course

PED 332 Modern Dance II

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2008)

Designed for the student who has had some previous experience in Modern Dance (or has taken PED 224), this course will continue to explore the body as an instrument of expression and how to broaden one's movement range in doing so. The course will consist of experiences in body awareness, technique, improvisation/exploration, and performance. 1/4 Course

Health

HLT 109 Comprehensive First Aid

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Spring 2009)

A comprehensive course in the latest techniques and procedures in meeting accident and illness emergencies, such as stoppage of breathing, cardiac arrest, airway obstruction, severe bleeding, poisoning, fractures, burns, shock, heat or cold related emergencies, seizures, and sudden illness. Two American Red Cross certificates-Community CPR and Community First Aid and Safety-can be earned. Course Fee: $5. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed this course as PED 209. 1 Course

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

This course examines the biological, psychological, social, and ethical factors that affect human sexuality and interpersonal relationships. Through lecture, small- and large-group discussions, debates, audiovisuals, guest speakers, and directed reading assignments, the focus will be on reality-oriented sexual behavior and attitudes, needs, and interests of college students; positive satisfaction, obligations, and responsibilities to self and others; sexual deviance; influence of society; and changing mores, roles, and lifestyles. Special emphasis will be on examining one's own values. The intent is to educate, not to indoctrinate. 1 Course

HL T 210 Health in Appalachia (APS)

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Spring 2009)

This course explores various dimensions of the environment that impact the health of individuals and the communities in which they live within the Appalachian region. Topics addressed include: education, religion, industrialization, economic development, access to health care, sexuality, domestic violence, race and ethnicity, and substance abuse. This class is designed for the non-professional interested in the health needs of all people living in the Appalachian region and will include directed readings, lectures, discussions, films, guest speakers, and field trips. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

This course is a study of health education and health promotion as it relates to person health and well-being. Among the topics included for exploration will be the meaning of health and wholeness, history of health education and health promotion, and theories and models for learning and behavior change. The knowledge is applicable to students for affecting change on an individual basis and within their community. This serves as the introductory course for students entering the Health Minor. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed HLT 115. 1 Course

Prerequisites: PEH 100 or permission; and GSTR 110

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered in Spring 2009)

This course explores family dynamics from a family systems perspective and examines how those dynamics are affected by addiction and violence. Topics include impact on children and their future relationships, domestic violence, trauma healing, prevention, intervention, and treatment options. 1 Course

Prerequisites: PEH JOO; GSTR JIO; and one other HLT course

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2008)

Stressing psychological, social, and physical implications, the major emphases of this course are: creative teaching; introduction to philosophy/history of health education; and of community health and applications of certain priority topics (mental health, family life and sex education, substance-abuse education, healthcare and disease control, and others) at both the elementary and secondary levels (P-12). Stresses the need for developing positive health behavior and health-education programs that are health-related rather than disease-oriented. 1 Course

HLT 318 Emotional and Mental Health

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Short Term 2009)

A study of the mind and body connection to holistic health. Strategies an individual can use to attain positive emotional and mental health through awareness of cognition, early experiences, and self-concept/self-esteem, and belief systems. The course also will review the impact of emotional and psychological abuse, self-esteem, loss and transitions, and suicide prevention, intervention, and postvention. This course is designed to be educational, not therapeutic. 1 Course

Prerequisites: Determined by instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

HL T 390/490A or B Independent Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 390; senior standing for 490

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

HL T 395/495 Internship

Prerequisite: Sophomore, junior, or senior standing

Offered: Typically every term

HLT 397/497A or B Team Initiated Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 397; senior standing for 497

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

HLT 398/498 Directed Study

Prerequisites: Will vary, but always will include permission of instructor

Offered: Typically on a limited basis as student interest and faculty availability allow

See p. 52 of this Catalog. 1 Course

Physics

PHY 111 Introduction to Astronomy

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

This course will explore topics in modern astronomy, including the formation of the solar system, the lives and deaths of stars, the structure of the galaxy, and the origin and evolution of the universe. Both lecture and lab will emphasize a hands-on approach to understanding the underlying physical principles that govern astronomy. Three one-hour lecture periods and one two-hour laboratory each week. Practical Reasoning with Quantitative Emphasis (PRQ). Course Fee: $20. 1 Course

PHY 217 General Physics I with Algebra

Prerequisite: Completion or waiver of MAT 115 (or concurrent enrollment)

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

First half of a two-course sequence stressing the basic concepts of physics and problem solving, suitable for the student intending to major in the physical sciences, as well as for students in the life sciences and arts who seek a liberal-arts course in classical and modern physics. Topics include Newtonian Mechanics, heat, and energy. Three one-hour periods each week and one two-hour period for discussion or laboratory work. 1 Course

PHY 218 General Physics II with Algebra

Prerequisite: PHY 217; completion or waiver of MAT 125 (or concurrent enrollment); OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

Second half of the introductory physics sequence. Topics include wave motion, fluids, electricity & magnetism, electric circuits, light and optics. Three one-hour periods each week plus one two-hour period for discussion or laboratory work, where appropriate. 1 Course

PHY 315 Introductory Physics I with Calculus

Prerequisite: MAT 135 (or waiver) or concurrent enrollment

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

This is the first half of a two-course sequence in classical physics with calculus. The focus of the first term is classical mechanics, with emphasis on the relationship between force, momentum, and energy. Topics to be covered include Newtonian dynamics, fundamental forces, conservation of momentum and energy, and rotational motion. Three one-hour lectures and one two-hour laboratory each week. 1 Course

PHY 316 Introductory Physics II with Calculus

Prerequisites: PHY 315 and MAT 225, or concurrent enrollment

Offered: Typically every Fall Term (not offered in 2008, as an exception)

A continuation of the introductory sequence in classical physics with calculus. The second term will focus on the phenomena of electromagnetism and waves. Topics include wave motion, electrostatics, electric and magnetic fields, fundamentals of DC circuits, and electromagnetism. Three one-hour lectures and one two-hour laboratory each week. 1 Course

PHY 320 Modern Physics

Prerequisites: PHY 316 and MAT 135 (or waiver); OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

This course provides an introduction to topics in 20th century physics including relativity, introductory quantum mechanics, and atomic and nuclear physics. Other topics of interest may be covered as time allows. Four one-hour lectures each week. 1 Course

PHY 325 Mathematical Methods in Physics I

Prerequisites: PHY 315 and MAT 135 (or waiver), or concurrent enrollment; OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

This course stresses applications of Mathematical methods and techniques to Physics that are needed in the physical sciences. Topics generally include: simple functions of applied math, quadratic and higher-power equations, simultaneous equations, matrices, determinants, eigenvalues and eigenvectors, geometry, vectors, complex numbers, series and approximations, differential operators, and simple integration. Four hours of lectures each week. 1 Course

PHY 330 Mathematical Methods in Physics II

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

A course of applied mathematics and techniques often required in physics. Topics may vary, but will generally include partial differential equations and boundary value problems, Fourier analysis and integral transforms, complex integration, group representations, matrices, and determinants. Four hours of lectures each week. 1 Course

PHY 335 Physical Optics

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (next offered Spring 2009)

The wave nature of light is presented and optical phenomena explained in terms of the model. Modern topics in optics revolving around the laser are included. Three one-hour lectures and one two-hour laboratory session each week. 1 Course

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (next offered Fall 2009)

A laboratory course dealing with some of the important experimental techniques in modern physics involving experience with such things as vacuum systems; electronic design and shop construction; classical experiments in contemporary physics; and independent research projects. One three-hour laboratory session each week. May be repeated for credit for sequential or differing learning experiences. 1/4 Course

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (next offered Spring 2009)

An intermediate course covering classical thermodynamics and the methods of statistical mechanics. Topics covered include the first and second laws of thermodynamics, with applications, statistical theory of entropy, and classical and quantum ensembles. Four one-hour lectures each week. 1 Course

PHY 460 Electromagnetic Theory

Prerequisites: PHY 316 and MAT 330; OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Fall 2008, as an exception)

An introduction to the fundamentals of classical electricity and magnetism and electromagnetic waves. Emphasizing vector analysis and the laws of Coulomb, Faraday, and Ampere, leading to the development of Maxwell's Theory. Four one-hour lectures each week. 1 Course

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

A course covering topics in Newtonian and Lagrangian Mechanics. Topics include rectilinear motion, oscillations, three-dimensional motion, central forces, generalized coordinates and momenta, and Lagrange multipliers. 1 Course

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2009)

An intermediate course in quantum mechanics, with applications. Topics include Schrodinger's equation, particle in a box, the harmonic oscillator, the hydrogen atom, perturbation theory, and the WKB approximation. Four one-hour lectures each week. 1 Course

PHY 485 Introduction to Solid-State Physics

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (next offered Fall 2009)

This course provides an introduction to the area of solid-state physics. Topics to be covered include crystal structure; diffraction of waves by crystals; thermal properties of solids; dielectric properties of solids; free electron model of metals; band theory; magnetism and magnetic resonance; and superconductivity. Four one-hour lectures each week. 1 Course

Prerequisites: Determined by course instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See p. 51 of this Catalog. NOTE: Studies in a specialized area of instructor's and student's interest, such as solid-state physics, thermodynamics, quantum mechanics, optics, radiation physics, etc. Laboratory and discussion sessions will be stressed, with students largely responsible for the progress of the course. 1/2 or 1 Course

PHY 390/490A or B Independent Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 390; senior standing for 490

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

PHY 492 Physics Seminar

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

A course centered around readings, experiments, and research on topics approved by departmental faculty. The seminar emphasizes oral presentations, discussion, and preparation of written reports. Normally taken in the senior year, it is open to other advanced students with permission. 1/4 Course

PHY 395/495 Internship

Offered: Typically every term

PHY 397/497A or B Team Initiated Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 397; senior standing for 497

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

PHY 398/498 Directed Study

Prerequisites: Will vary, but always will include permission of instructor

Offered: Typically on a limited basis as student interest and faculty availability allow

Political Science

PSC 100 Introduction to the Study of Politics

Prerequisite: Completion or waiver of MAT 010

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

A broad survey of the major questions and principles involved in the study of politics. Social Science Perspective. 1 Course

PSC 110 American Government

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

An analysis of the basic structures, processes, and contemporary problems of American government. Social Science Perspective. 1 Course

PSC 201 American Political Thought (HIS)

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (next offered Fall 2009)

A study of major theoretical traditions related to the design and history of American government and political culture. 1 Course

PSC 202 Women and African Americans in Politics (AFR/WST)

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2008)

A study of the participation of women and African Americans in the American political process. Theories of representative democracy and an introduction to the historical struggles for equal rights provide a context for the investigation of contemporary electoral politics, governance, grassroots politics, and public policy. Students examine the progress of women and African American candidates, and of related public-policy issues, throughout the current election and its immediate aftermath. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. NOTE: In order to receive African and African American Studies or Women's Studies major or minor credit, the student's major project must focus on African Americans or women, respectively. 1 Course

PSC 204 Classical Political Philosophy (PHI)

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Spring 2009)

An examination of Greek, Roman, and Christian thinking about law, justice, and political community, including works by Plato, Aristotle, Cicero, and Thomas Aquinas, among others. Western History Perspective and Practical Reasoning (PR). 1 Course

PSC 207 Human Rights, International Law (PHI)

Prerequisite: GSTR 210 or sophomore standing

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

A philosophic examination of moral and philosophic issues involving the nature of law and rights, theories of just and unjust war, views of state sovereignty, and the international community. Thematic focus on legal and moral questions about uses of force in humanitarian interventions to address violations of human rights. Attention to classic and contemporary philosophic texts, relevant legal documents, and some basic structures of state and international order. Practical Reasoning (PR) and World Culture (Western) component of the International Perspective. 1 Course

PSC 209 Freedom, Law, and the Modern State (PHI)

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

An examination of some distinctive ways of thinking about law, freedom, and the state since the Reformation, including the social contract views of Hobbes, Locke, and Rousseau, utilitarianism, Marx, 19th-century historicism, and 20th-century pragmatism. Western History Perspective and Practical Reasoning (PR). 1 Course

PSC 220 Comparative Political Systems

Prerequisite: PSC 100 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every year (next offered Spring 2009)

An analytical and comparative study of the structure and dynamics of various political systems in the world such as parliamentary, authoritarian, and totalitarian types, with emphasis on selected European countries and the European Union. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed PSC 320. 1 Course

PSC 235 Research Methods

Prerequisite: MAT 104 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

An introduction to the methods and techniques of the scientific analysis of political phenomena. Includes study of research design and execution, paper writing, and the logic of quantitative analysis. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed PSC 335. 1 Course

PSC 250 International Relations

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

A study of the various forces, assumptions, considerations, and actors that define national interests, shape international relations, and promote world order. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed PSC 350. 1 Course

PSC 314 American Constitutional Law

Offered: Typically every third year (next offered Fall 2008)

An examination of the principles of American constitutional law. The course focuses on major opinions of the U.S. Supreme Court and of lower courts. Some descriptive and supplemental analysis of judicial and constitutional policy-making. 1 Course

PSC 315 Legislative Process

Prerequisite: PSC 110 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every third year (next offered term yet to be determined)

An analysis of the role of Congress in the American political system. Specific attention is given to the theories of representation, the character of legislative institutions, the participants and processes of lawmaking, and legislative decision-making. 1 Course

PSC 316 The American Presidency

Offered: Typically every third year (next offered term yet to be determined)

An examination of the President's place in national politics. Major topics include the development and exercise of formal and informal powers, problems in presidential selection, forms of political and administrative leadership, and the relationship between the presidency and the mass public, media, Congress, and courts. 1 Course

PSC 355 Foreign Policy Analysis

Prerequisite: PSC 250 (formerly 350)

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2008)

An examination of forces, structures, and processes that affect foreign-policy formulation. Emphasis on U.S. foreign policy. 1 Course

PSC 317 The Judicial Process

Offered: Typically every third year (next offered term yet to be determined)

The organization, functioning, and political role of the courts and the legal process in the United States. Detailed attention is given to the selection of judges, arguments about judicial activism and restraint, and the impact of courts on politics and policy. 1 Course

PSC 318 Political Parties and Interest Groups

Prerequisite: PSC 110 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every third year (next offered term yet to be determined)

An examination of political parties and interest groups in the United States, two types of political organization whose activities link citizens with government. Special attention is given to the involvement of citizens in these parties and interest groups, and the activities of these organizations in elections and government. 1 Course

PSC 319 Citizen Politics

Prerequisite: PSC 110 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every third year (next offered Fall 2008)

Study of citizens' behavior in politics. Topics include socialization, public opinion, political participation, political communications and persuasion, and voting behavior. The focus will be on participation in Western democracies, especially the United States. 1 Course

PSC 325 Public Administration and Public Policy

Offered: Typically every third year (next offered Fall 2010)

An introduction to the study of human behavior in public organizations covering such areas as the role of administrative agencies and commissions, the Office of Management and Budget, and other administrative bureaucracies that help determine the outcome of political decisions. Specific policy areas will be explored to discuss the role bureaucratic organizations play in the policy-making process of public administration. 1 Course

PSC 330 State and Local Government and Politics

Prerequisite: PSC 110 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every third year (next offered term yet to be determined)

An introduction to the structures, processes, and contemporary problems in the sub-national politics and intergovernmental relationships. 1 Course

PSC 351 International Organizations

Offered: Typically alternate Fall Terms (next offered Fall 2009)

An analysis of the development and evolution of modern international organizations, and the problems and prospects of international integration. Focus on the United Nations system. 1 Course

PSC 352 The Politics of Developing Nations

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2010)

An analysis of the dynamics of politics and change in the Global South, focusing on issues and strategies for effecting political stability and development. World Culture (Non-Western) component of the International Perspective. 1 Course

PSC 460 Problems in Politics

Prerequisite: Permission of instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

An advanced seminar with readings and papers centered around various topics to be designated at the time of registration. May be repeated, provided the topic is not repeated. NOTE: See Schedule of Classes for topics and prerequisites. 1 Course

PSC 480 Senior Research Seminar

Prerequisites for Political Science majors-Senior standing; PSC 235 (formerly 335); and one PSC 300-level course in research area

Prerequisites for non-majors-Two introductory PSC courses and one advanced PSC course and permission of instructor

An advanced seminar normally taken in the senior year, with readings and research papers centered around topics approved by the instructor(s). Students will be required to develop and carry out a mature research design, and to present and defend the paper both in writing and before the seminar. 1 Course

PSC 186/286/386/486 Special Topics

Prerequisites: Determined by instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See p. 51 of this Catalog. 1/2 or 1 Course

PSC 390/490A or B Independent Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 390; senior standing for 490

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See pp. 5 I-52 of this Catalog. 1 Course

PSC 395/495 Internship

Prerequisite: Sophomore, junior, or senior standing

Psychology

PSY 100 General Psychology

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

A systematic introduction to psychology as a science. Social Science Perspective. 1 Course

PSY 205 Statistics for Psychology

Prerequisites: PSY 100 AND completion or waiver of MAT 012

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Instruction in the use of statistics in psychological research with techniques. The course will draw heavily on research findings from animal studies but also will discuss the application of those findings to human behavior modification, psychopathology, addiction, and education. The laboratory will involve the application of conditioning techniques learned in the course. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed PSY 307. 1 Course

PSY 208 Cognitive Psychology with Laboratory

Prerequisite: PSY 100

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

Topics that will be considered are perception, memory, language, concept formation, problem solving, and creativity. The laboratory will involve examination and application of the principles learned in the course. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed PSY 308. 1 Course

PSY 209 Social Psychology

Prerequisite: PSY 100

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Spring 2009 & Fall 2009)

Effect of social factors upon behavior, motives, attitudes, and personality; and psychological aspects of social groups and institutions. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed PSY 309. 1 Course

PSY 210 Industrial/Organizational Psychology

Prerequisite: Completion of the Social Science Perspective & Practical Reasoning with Quantitative Emphasis (PRQ)

Offered: Typically odd-numbered Short Terms (next offered 2009)

This course is designed to help students understand and appreciate the many ways in which psychological theories and procedures apply to the world of work and can be used to enhance human productivity and health. The course's emphasis will be on practical applications of psychology and will include topics such as personnel policies and administration, performance management, organizational theory, behavior and development, occupational health, and leadership. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed this course when offered as PSY 386. 1 Course

PSY 211 Abnormal Psychology

Prerequisite: Any course that meets the Social Science Perspective (including PSY 100)

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

This course provides an introduction to the field of abnormal psychology and mental health. Students who take this course will have the opportunity, through class discussions, readings, and community-based service-learning experiences, to explore the history and complexities of mental health and mental illness, including the impact felt by individuals, families, and society. The course begins with a look at the history of mental illness, including the early theories that have fueled many of the current beliefs and stereotypes. Next, we survey the various methods for diagnosing and studying mental illness, with an emphasis on empirical methodology and theoretical conceptualizations. Finally, the course explores the various forms of mental disorders, paying particular attention to the numerous complexities involved in their prevention, identification, and treatment. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed PSY 311. 1 Course

PSY 212 Behavioral Neuroscience with Laboratory

Prerequisite: PSY 100 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2009)

A study of the physiological basis of human and animal behavior. Examination of traditional approaches to the study of behavioral neuroscience, as well as consideration of recent developments and relevance to both normal and abnormal behavior will be included. The laboratory includes neuroanatomical dissection and examination of a sheep brain; examination of human brain sections; several electrophysiological studies of neural and sensory functions using invertebrates; and measurement and analysis of human physiological responses to psychological variables, such as stress. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed PSY 312. 1 Course

PSY 213 Child Psychopathology

Prerequisite: PSY 100 or CFS 130; OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

An introduction to the fundamental theories, research methods, concepts, and controversies within the field of childhood behavioral and emotional disorders. An emphasis will be placed upon current empirical and theoretical approaches to childhood disorders, including issues in their classification, etiology, and developmental course. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed PSY 313. 1 Course

PSY 214 Ethology with Laboratory

Prerequisite: PSY 100 or BJO 100 or 110

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

The naturalistic study of animal behavior viewed from an evolutionary perspective. An investigation of general principles of behavior shared by many animals as well as specific adaptations. Laboratory emphasizing careful observation and interpretations of the ways animals behave. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed PSY 314. 1 Course

PSY 215 Health Psychology

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2008)

A course designed for Psychology majors, but with relevance for Nursing majors, Physical Education majors, pre-med and pre-dental students, and interested others. Interdisciplinary in content, the course examines how biological, psychological, and social factors interact with and effect health, chronic disease, health-promotion efforts, medical treatment, and stress management. Course content also will examine sound research principles, alternative or complementary treatments, and application techniques for health- habit changes. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed PSY 315. 1 Course

PSY 217 Cross-Cultural Psychology

Offered: Typically even-numbered Short Terms (next offered 2010)

An exploration of the emerging field of cross-cultural psychology, this course will provide a critical and comparative study of cultural effects on human psychology. We will focus on the linkages between cultural norms and behavior and the ways in which particular human activities are influenced by different, sometimes dissimilar, social and cultural forces. Through this process students will gain a better understanding and appreciation of psychological universals (phenomena common to people of many cultures), as well as the breadth and depth of diversity in human thought and behavior across the world. 1 Course

PSY 231 Social Gerontology

Prerequisite: Completion of the Social Science Perspective

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2009)

An introductory course intended for undergraduate students who are interested in learning more about aging and the field of gerontology. The course approaches aging from an interdisciplinary perspective, focusing on the physical, psychological, economic, and social changes that occur with age. This course also explores personal and societal attitudes toward aging and focuses on the diversity that is present in the older population. By the end of this course, students are expected to have a deeper understanding of the kinds of lives that older adults lead, with many of their stereotypes about the elderly having been challenged. 1 Course

PSY 306 Research Methods

Prerequisite: PSY 205 (formerly 305)

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Students will build upon the foundation of statistics and experimental design they have acquired in PSY 205 to develop a theoretical and practical understanding of research methods. In addition to demonstrating their knowledge of the scientific method and research design, students are expected to find and interpret primary psychological literature, select and use inferential statistical tests, and design, conduct, and present empirical research studies. Students will develop their faculties of objective observation, critical thinking, and clear expression. 1 Course

PSY 321 Personality Theory

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2008)

Personality Theory is designed to introduce students to some of the major theoretical perspectives on what constitutes the "self," or those characteristics and traits that make us who we are. The field of personality, drawing from its philosophical traditions, attempts to answer such questions as "What is the nature of humankind?" or "How does one develop a healthy or unhealthy personality?" Questions like these have been the driving force behind psychologists' attempts at discovering a unified and comprehensive understanding of personality. Throughout the course, we will examine and discuss a wide range of both classical and contemporary perspectives on personality, focusing not only on the specific components of each, but also addressing the merits of each and their implications for larger theoretical debates and one's own personal experiences. Using a combination of critical thinking and thoughtful reflection, students are invited to consider the various theories and supporting evidence, formulating their own conclusions and applying each to their greater understanding of self and others. 1 Course

PSY 323 Clinical and Counseling Methods

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

Clinical and Counseling Methods is designed to provide undergraduate students with an overview of the science and practice of clinical and counseling psychology. The course will cover the history and development of the field, including methods of inquiry and major theoretical perspectives. Methods of assessment and intervention in clinical psychology will be examined through readings, lectures, discussions, and, when appropriate and available, film/video. Additionally, students will be encouraged strongly to apply critical thinking and analysis skills to some of the current and controversial issues that pervade the field of clinical psychology. 1 Course

PSY 420 History and Systems of Psychology

Prerequisites: PSY 100 and two other PSY courses

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

A study of the historical and philosophical development of psychological thinking from Descartes to the present. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed PSY 320. 1 Course

PSY 424 Senior Research

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Each student will design, conduct, and present a psychological experiment as a senior thesis. 1 Course

PSY 186/286/386/486 Special Topics

Prerequisites: Determined by instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See p. 51 of this Catalog. 1/2 to 1 Course

PSY 390/490A or B Independent Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 390; senior standing for 490

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See pp. 51-52 of this Catalog. 1 Course

PSY 395/495 Internship

Prerequisite: Sophomore, junior, or senior standing

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

PSY 397/497A or B Team Initiated Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 397; senior standing for 497

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

PSY 398/498 Directed Study

Prerequisites: Will vary, but always will include permission

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See p. 52 of this Catalog. 1 Course

Sociology

SOC 100 Sociology of Everyday Life

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

A practical introduction that relates theory, data, and analysis directly to an examination of the sociological imagination. Through readings and exercises, students will learn to apply the ways in which sociology can help them inquire into their own activities and relations with others. Social Science Perspective. 1 Course

SOC 110 Problems of American Institutions

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

American society has been changing rapidly during the 20th century. The student will study the ways in which our family, religious, health, economic, political, and educational institutions have changed; why some of these changes are seen as problems and others are not; and the solutions that have been proposed by various groups in our society. Social Science Perspective. 1 Course

SOC 132 Introduction to Race in America (AFR)

Prerequisite: Completion or waiver of MAT OJ 0

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

In America's last five centuries, the concept of race changed from a literary meaning about the "race of humankind" toward popular folkways of seeing, describing, and categorizing individuals and groups based on pseudo-scientific explanations of physical and cultural traits associated with groups from various nations and regions. This course allows us to examine social patterns of these interracial and interethnic encounters and to analyze sociologically factors that help to maintain or change the domination or subordination established among the groups in our contemporary American society. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

SOC 215 Juvenile Delinquency

Prerequisite: GSTR 210

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

This course offers an examination of juvenile delinquency as a social construction and traces the development of the juvenile justice system. Social theories of delinquency are analyzed, along with major intervention strategies. Issues of race, social class, and gender that often color our ideas of delinquent behavior are considered. 1 Course

SOC 220 Cultural Anthropology

Prerequisite: GSTR 110

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

An examination of the role that culture plays in shaping the way human beings live in different societies. Emphasis on the variety of cultural knowledge that people use to give meaning to life, to understand one another, and to organize their behavior. Social Science Perspective. 1 Course

SOC 223 Social Stratification and Inequity

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

The sociological study of social class, status, and power. This course examines individual and structural explanations for the generation and maintenance of inequality in the United States, and the influence of stratification on individuals and groups. Topics include theories of stratification; correlates of social position for the upper class, middle class, working class, and the poor; social mobility; and functions/dysfunctions of social inequality. In contrast to race and gender stratification, this course focuses on social-class stratification in particular. A major goal of the course is to understand the significance of social class where before it may have been invisible. 1 Course

SOC 325 Gender and Sex Roles (WST)

Prerequisite: SOC 100 or PSY 100 or CFS 130 AND GSTR 210

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered Spring 2010)

An examination of the behaviors and expectations of being male and female and the resulting relationships among men and women across the life cycle. Attention is given to current issues of gender roles and socialization, the family, education, employment, social class, and dynamics of social change. 1 Course

SOC 327 Crime and Deviance

Prerequisites: SOC 100 and GSTR 210

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (next offered Spring 2009)

An examination of the conditions under which deviance is defined and changes over time; how people come to define some persons as different, dangerous and/or immoral; how persons respond to being so defined; and the role of social control agents in the definition of deviance and the treatment of the deviant. 1 Course

SOC 330 Community Analysis: The Appalachian Case (APS)

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (next offered Spring 2009)

This course is a study of the history, demography, social structure, and forces promoting social change in the Appalachian rural community. The student will learn a sociological approach to understanding the concept of community, its various systems, institutions, and groups. A community problem-analysis orientation will be followed. While studying the community in Appalachia, other community studies-American, European, and Third World-will be examined for comparative purposes, looking at content and method. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

SOC 335 Methods of Social Research

Prerequisites: Completion or waiver of MAT OJ2; and SOC 100; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

In this course, the way to convert ideas from other Sociology courses into testable hypotheses will be studied. It includes examining various types of research, research design, and methods of collecting data. The student will find and evaluate sociological materials, use descriptive statistics and computers as tools in organizing information, and write a research proposal. Practical Reasoning (PR). 1 Course

SOC 340 Social Statistics for a Diverse Society

Prerequisites: Successful completion of both Practical Reasoning with Quantitative Emphasis (PRQ) and the Social Science Perspective

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (next offered Fall 2009)

This course provides a basic introduction to descriptive and inferential statistics as used in social-science research. It assumes no previous experience with statistics. Students will learn how social scientists use statistics to describe social phenomena; compute and interpret basic statistics both by hand and using SPSS software; apply the logic of hypothesis testing; and generate and interpret figures and tables. The course will meet 4 hours per week. NOTE: Noncredit for anyone with credit in PSY 305. 1 Course

SOC 341 The Sociology of Development and Social Change

Prerequisites: GSTR 310 and a course approved to meet Practical Reasoning (PR or PRQ)

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (next offered Fall 2008)

The sociology of development is concerned with sociological studies of causes and processes of social and economic change in the "developing" or Third World countries. This course looks at the social, demographic, and economic structures of nations. It is a study of the human dimensions of societal development. The topics include the history of the world since 1945, theoretical approaches to social change, comparative consideration of the economic and social structures of less-developed countries, and an examination of the relationship between development policy and factors of social change. 1 Course

SOC 348 Comparative Analysis of Formal Organizations

Prerequisite: One 100-level SOC or PSC or PSY or ECO or HIS course and GSTR 210

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow)

This study of formal organization begins with a review of the research on total organizations-organizations that serve as places of residence and work, such as the military and some health, social service, and educational institutions-and the research of non-total organizations, which include business and government. Of particular interest will be the impact of formal organizations on their members, as well as an interorganizational look at social forces that lead to changes that affect organizations over time. From this latter perspective, the organizational structure, e.g., goals, authority, and resources, are examined in view of macro-societal forces, such as urbanization, class conflict, and ideologies (cultures and belief systems). 1 Course

SOC 350 Theories Guiding Sociology

Prerequisite: SOC 100 and GSTR 210

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

An examination of the major theoretical perspectives in sociology: functionalism role theory, conflict theory, exchange theory, and symbolic interactionism. The student will review major sociological theories comparing them in terms of central concepts and explanations of how patterns of social organization are created, maintained, and changed. 1 Course

SOC 360 Social Policy Studies and Evaluation Research

Prerequisite: SOC 335 or concurrent enrollment

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (next offered Fall 2009)

An examination of the use of sociological concepts and findings to address social problems, social policy, and programs promoting social change. Students will study techniques of social program evaluation, social program monitoring, needs assessment, and policy development. The course covers the historical background to applied sociology, issues in the use of sociological knowledge, and selected case studies of applied sociology in various settings. 1 Course

SOC 436 Sociological Methods in Action

Prerequisite: SOC 335

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

This course is a continuation of SOC 335. Actual field or empirical research will be done, as well as the planning, design, and completion of a research project. The work includes selecting samples, collecting the information needed to test hypotheses, using statistics to understand data, and writing and presenting to peers a report based on research. 1 Course

SOC 461 Field Experience in Social Policy Studies

Prerequisites: SOC 360 and permission of instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

An in-service training experience working as an applied sociologist with a program. Students will learn how to use critical thinking to analyze problems, develop research plans designed to provide solutions to these problems, carry out research in the field, critically analyze the data collected into findings, and write organized reports that set forth the policy implications of the findings. Under the academic direction of a staff member in the Department of Sociology, the student will work in a setting that focuses on the creation and evaluation of social policy, e.g. business, service agency, community group, or governmental or judicial sector. In addition to spending the equivalent of a full day each week in the field placement, students will meet together for a weekly seminar. 1 Course

SOC 186/286/386/486 Special Topics

Sustainability and Environmental Studies

SENS 100 Introduction to Sustainability and Environmental Studies

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

The concept of sustainability is explored as it relates to human dominated and natural ecosystems at spatial scales from local to global. The major environmental problems facing the United States and the world are evaluated in terms of interactions among ecological, social, economic, and spiritual factors. Emphasis is placed on understanding the methods by which sustainability is evaluated and actions that can be taken to increase the sustainability of a community or society. Local ecosystems will be used as a context for learning. Three lectures or laboratory/field exercises each week. Practical Reasoning (PR). 1 Course

SENS 215 Sustainable Appalachian Communities (APS)

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008)

An introduction to the concept of sustainability as applied to communities in the Appalachian region. Ecological, social, and economic characteristics of Appalachia are reviewed as a context for case studies of communities within the region. A variety of approaches to sustainable development are explored. Students learn techniques for evaluating community sustainability, and participate in a service-learning or community-based research project that assists a local community to become more sustainable. African Americans', Appalachians', Women's Studies Perspective. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed GST/SENS 210. 1 Course

SENS 225 Environmental Justice (AFRIAPS/PSJIWST)

Offered: Typically alternate years (first offered Spring 2009)

This course is an introduction to the study of Environmental Justice and issues associated with access to, and equitable sharing of, the products of a healthy environment, including clean water and air, healthy food, non-toxic communities, and environmental security. The history of the environmental justice movement beginning with its foundations in the Civil Rights and Environmental movements will be studied, followed by a survey and analysis of current issues of environmental justice, particularly in relation to minority and poor communities in the United States and worldwide. Emphasis is placed on the role of women and African Americans as participants in the environmental justice movement, and the analysis of environmental justice issues in Appalachia. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. NOTE: Noncredit for students who took SENS 460 in Fall 2005 or Fall 2006. 1 Course

SENS 310 Ecology

Prerequisite: A laboratory-science course

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2008)

An introduction to the basic ecological principles of terrestrial and aquatic systems. Emphasis is placed on experiential learning through field and laboratory studies. Principles of energy flow, material cycles, physiological ecology, population ecology, ecological succession, community ecology, and biological diversity are addressed. Hands-on exercises and experiments are integrated with lectures, discussion groups, student research projects, and computer exercises to demonstrate the process of scientific inquiry into ecological issues. Two class periods and one laboratory period each week. 1 Course

SENS 320 Intro. to Geographical Information Systems

Offered: Typically alternate years (first offered Fall 2008)

An introduction to the basic principles of Geographical Information Systems (GIS), and the related technology of Global Positioning Systems (GPS), through demonstration and practice with GIS software. Examples from a variety of disciplines will be presented to illustrate how GIS are used to manage spatial data. Students will develop beginning competency in applying GIS software to example problems. Practical Reasoning with Quantitative Emphasis (PRQ). NOTE: Noncredit for students who have completed this course as SENS 386. 1 Course.

SENS 340 Introduction to Ecological Design

Prerequisite: SENS 100 or GSTR 332 or a laboratory-science course

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

An exploration of the principles and practice of ecological design-the purposeful integration of human actions with the structures and functions of the natural world. Emphasis is placed on the application of ecological principles to the design of sustainable technologies, buildings, communities, and landscapes. Topics include solar energy, biomimicry, ecological machines, sustainable agriculture, ecological architecture and building, aquaculture, ecovillages, bioremediation, eco-industrial systems, and sustainable communities. 1 Course

SENS 345 Ecological Architecture

Prerequisite: One of the following courses-SENS 340, ART 246, TEC 111, or TEC 130

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

A survey of the developing field of ecological, or "green," architecture. Topics include innovative design methodology, alternative building materials, energy conservation and renewable energy sources, indigenous architecture, and ecologically engineered waste management systems. Material will be presented in the context of a dialogue between conventional and ecological architecture. Laboratory exercises are complemented by experiential learning through student involvement in campus and community building projects. 1 Course

SENS 460 Capstone Course for Sustainability and Environmental Studies

Prerequisites: Declared SENS minor; SENS 100 and completion or concurrent enrollment in all other SENS minor requirements

Advanced analysis of a current sustainability and environmental issue integrating the diverse knowledge, experiences, and points of view that students have developed in the SENS minor. This course integrates elements of the natural sciences, social sciences, and humanities, and emphasizes specific problem solving as well as abstract thinking. Students are expected to process and synthesize complex concepts and ideas by drawing upon the fundamentals learned in SENS 100, the breadth gained from their selection of electives, and their specific skills and perspectives developed through the experiential component. 1 Course

SENS 186/286/386/486 Special Topics

Prerequisites: Determined by instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See p. 51 of this Catalog. 1/2 or I Course

SENS 390/490A or B Independent Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 390; senior standing for 490

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See pp. 51-52 of this Catalog. 1 Course

SENS 394/494 Experiential Learning Project

Prerequisites: SENS 100 and approval of the SENS Director

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

An experiential learning activity that normally occurs beyond the classroom setting, may be on or off campus, and will involve students in activities central to SENS learning objectives under the direction of a SE S faculty member. Successful completion of a SE S 395/495 (Internship), 140 hours in an approved labor position, or a student-faculty undergraduate research project may satisfy this requirement.

Noncredit Course

SENS 395/495 Internship

Offered: Typically every term

See p. 52 of this Catalog. 1 to 3 Courses

SENS 397/497A or B Team Initiated Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 397; senior standing for 497

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See pp. 51-52 of this Catalog. 1 Course

SENS 398/498 Directed Study

Prerequisites: Will vary but always will include permission of instructor

Offered: Typically on a limited basis as student interest and faculty availability allow

Technology and Industrial Arts

TEC 110 Technology I

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

A course relating the fundamentals of technology with emphasis on the study of tools, processes, materials, and organizational structures that provide goods and services to society. The major units to be investigated include communications, power, energy, and transportation. Practical Reasoning (PR).

Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

TEC 111 Technology II

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

A course relating the fundamentals of technology with emphasis on the study of tools, processes, materials, and organizational structures that provide goods and services to society. The major units to be investigated include materials and processes, manufacturing, and construction. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

TEC 118 History of Technology

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

A study of the impact of technological advancements throughout history, including changes to social institutions, such as government, education, and religion. Emphasis is placed on the changes brought about by the exponential growth of technology since the Industrial Revolution. Western History Perspective. 1 Course

TEC 130 Engineering Graphics

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring Terms

A study of the fundamentals of engineering graphics using both manual and computer-aided systems. Topics may include sketching, orthographic projection, dimensioning, pictorial drawings, and architectural drawings, as they relate to production. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

TEC 140 Production Technology in Woods

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring Terms (this year, offered Fall 2008 only, as an exception)

A study of selected production processes through considerations of wood and wood materials. The course encompasses material properties, ergonomic design, prototyping, production design, and primary and secondary processing. Instruction will include material selection, design, problem solving, fabrication, and finishing. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

TEC 180 Graphic Communication

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring Terms

A study of the fundamental material, processes, and technology used in graphic communications. Topics may include layout and design, printing methods, photography, digital imaging, and desktop publishing, for both print and electronic media. Arts Perspective. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

TEC 202 Photography

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Spring 2009)

This course will explore the materials, processes, and techniques used in photography. Topics may include cameras, exposure, film processing, printmaking, and digital imaging. Throughout the course, consideration will be given to both the technical and aesthetic aspects of photography. Arts Perspective. Course Fee: $15. 1 Course

TEC 213 Appalachian Crafts (APS)

Offered: Typically annually (next offered Fall 2008 and Spring 2009, as an exception)

A laboratory course involving work in various craft media including metal, wood, textiles, ceramics, and various native Appalachian materials. Through these various craft media, the culture of the Appalachian people will be examined focusing on factors affecting the life and work of the Appalachian craftspeople, including aesthetics versus function, advancing technology, and outside influences. Through skill development, students will gain insight into the problem-solving ability, lifestyle, and ingenuity of the Appalachian people. Opportunities will be given for in depth study and skill development. Arts Perspective and African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

TEC 218 Methods of Teaching Technology Education

Prerequisite: GSTR 110 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered 2009)

A study designed to examine the varied methods of presentation, lab management, demonstration, and course planning for teaching technology in grades 5-12. 1 Course

TEC 250 Production Technology in Metals

Prerequisite: Completion or waiver of MAT 012; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring Terms

A study of selected production processes using metal materials. The course encompasses material properties, design, prototyping, problem solving, and production design. Instruction also will include the cutting, forming, fastening, machining, casting, and finishing of metals. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

TEC 251 Metal Casting

Prerequisite: Completion or waiver of MAT 012; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically Short Term

This course will provide an in-depth study of non-ferrous metal casting tools, materials, and processes. Subjects to be explored include patterns and pattern making, mold design, mold making, molding, properties and uses of metals, and discussions of the state-of-the-art foundry operations. Use of the microcomputer as a design tool and problem-solving device in several aspects of foundry study will be emphasized. Course Fee: $15. 1 Course

TEC 265 Electrical Fundamentals

Prerequisite: Completion or waiver of MAT OJ 2; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring Terms

A study of alternating current (AC) and direct current (DC). Topics may include circuits, resistance, power, solid state devices, and use of electrical measuring instruments. Practical Reasoning with Quantitative Emphasis (PRQ). Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

TEC 275 Power Technology

Prerequisite: Completion or waiver of MAT 012; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring Terms

A study of the design and operation of power-related devices with provision for in-depth study and research. Topics may include power-conversion systems, power-transfer systems, and alternative energy. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

TEC 330 Computer Aided Drafting and Design

Prerequisite: TEC 130 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2008)

An advanced study of engineering graphics and design using computerized systems. Emphasis will be placed on problem solving, three-dimensional technical drawings, and applications of CADD. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

TEC 340 Advanced Studies in Woodworking

Prerequisite: TEC 140 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Spring 2009)

An advanced study of fine woodworking encompassing traditional and modern methods with an emphasis on design, aesthetics, and quality of construction. The course includes a study of furniture styles, ergonomic design, material properties, joinery, and traditional and contemporary construction methods. The structure of the course will provide additional emphasis on solution of specific problems of design and material applications. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

TEC 352 Quality Control

Prerequisite: TEC 130, MAT 105, completion or waiver of MAT 115; OR permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Spring 2009)

This course is designed to include the study of the history and foundations of quality control; quality-assurance program elements; the research of program problems; sampling and sampling techniques; inspection devices; statistical control; techniques of statistical process control; elements of time and motion study; and the application of computers in quality-assurance programs. Practical Reasoning with Quantitative Emphasis (PRQ). 1 Course

TEC 382 Computer Graphics

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

An in-depth study in various methods of using computers to generate, manipulate, and present graphic images. Topics may include: graphic design, digital photography, digital illustration, desktop publishing, Web-page design, and multi-media production. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

TEC 392 Work Learning Experience

Prerequisite: Admission to major or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

Student Labor learning experiences of at least one year (two regular terms or equivalent) related to the student's major. Required of all majors. Noncredit Course

TEC 455 Computer Integrated Manufacturing

Prerequisite: TEC 130, MAT 105, completion or waiver of MAT 115; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2008)

A study of contemporary applications and integration of the computer in manufacturing processes, production systems, product performance simulations, and plant design. This course will include practical experience in CAD/CAM integration and robotics applications. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

TEC 460 Solid State Electronics

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

A study of electronics based on the analysis, function, and operation of selected discrete and integrated solid-state devices. Topics may include solid-state power supplies, discrete control devices, and linear and digital solid-state circuits. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

TEC 470 Advanced Power Technology

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

In-depth study in areas of engine performance, energy conservation, fluid power, and developmental power sources as they apply to industry and agriculture. Will include study of common methods of power transmissions. Course Fee: $10. 1 Course

TEC 186/286/386/486 Special Topics

Prerequisites: Determined by instructor

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See p. 51 of this Catalog. 1/2 or 1 Course

TEC 489 Seminar in Technology

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

Concepts not offered in the laboratory courses will be presented. Included will be selected philosophic, historic, and current issues related to Technology and Industrial Arts. 1 Course

TEC 390/490A or B Independent Study

Prerequisite: Sophomore or junior standing for 390; senior standing for 490

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow

See pp. 51-52 of this Catalog. 1 Course

TEC 395/495 Internship

Offered: Typically every term

Women Gender Studies

WST 124 Introduction to Women's Studies

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

What is Women's Studies? What is feminism? What have been the historic roles of women in the United States? In the world? How are women's experiences similar? How do they differ? How do class, race, and ethnicity shape women's development? Any student who has ever asked her/himself any of these questions can begin to explore answers in this introductory course in Women's Studies. The interdisciplinary field of Women's Studies draws from the often neglected experience of women in order to describe, analyze, and more fully understand the gendered world order. Students will read several primary-source selections from each of the different eras of the international feminist movement, as well as complementary texts in women's history and literature. This introduction to Women's Studies will engage students in a deeply personal and academic journey that involves classroom discussion of individuals' perceptions and critiques, journal responses to both discussion and reading, and a media project analyzing cultural images of women. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

WST 135 African-American Women Writers (AFR/ENG)

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

How have African-American women writers coped with invisibility? How have they emerged from silence and created visions of identity and culture? This course will examine the writings of African-American women as a separate and distinct cultural group and the ways in which their writing is an expression of the culture and a historical record of its development. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

WST 202 Women and African Americans in Politics (AFR/PSC)

A study of the participation of women and African Americans in the American political process. Theories of representative democracy and an introduction to the historical struggles for equal rights provide a context for the investigation of contemporary electoral politics, governance, grassroots politics, and public policy. Students examine the progress of women and African American candidates, and of related public-policy issues, throughout the current election and its immediate aftermath. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. NOTE: In order to receive African and African American Studies or Women's Studies major or minor credit, the student's major project must focus on African Americans or women, respectively. 1 Course

WST 207 Family Relations (CFS)

Prerequisite: GSTR 110

Offered: Typically Fall and Spring terms

An introductory survey of the psycho-social aspects of family science, including an examination of functions and variations over the life cycle, diverse family forms, gender roles and power, family resources, healthy intimate relations and personal communication, and issues of parenthood. This course balances theory and personal application. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective and Social Science Perspective. 1 Course

WST 211 Women in Religion (REL)

Prerequisite: GSTR 110

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Fall 2008)

A study of the teachings on and participation of women in religion as well as a study of the status and roles of women in several 'religious traditions, such as Buddhism, Christianity, Confucianism, Hinduism, Islam, Judaism, or indigenous religious traditions. Religion Perspective and African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

WST 212 Literature of Caribbean Women (AFR/ENG)

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Spring 2010)

This course is an exploration of voices of women in the Caribbean. We will read works by writers from the Anglo-Caribbean, French Caribbean, and Hispanic Caribbean. These writers represent the islands of Jamaica, Cuba, Guadelupe, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, and Barbados. Their works investigate issues of racial configuration, relationships between women, politics, colonialism and post-colonialism, and the creation of the island space. We will look at the long, turbulent history of the island of Hispaniola from the perspective of both the Haitian and Dominican, the complex history of each of these island nations, and other important topics. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective and World Culture (Non-Western) component of the International Perspective. NOTE: Noncredit for students who took this course as GSTR 209. 1 Course

WST 220 Gender in Appalachian (APS)

Offered: Typically as student interest and faculty availability allow (first offered 2009-2010)

An interdisciplinary exploration of gender and its impact on the Appalachian region. Proceeding from the assumption that cultural constructions of sex, sexuality, and gender are basic to our understandings of the world, we will investigate such topics as family and community; intimacy, violence, and power; health and reproduction; home and work; religion and spirituality; masculinity and femininity; activism and resistance in Appalachia. The diversity of Appalachian experiences will be explored through fiction and non-fiction readings, films, and discussion. 1 Course

WST 223 Theologies of Liberation (REL)

Prerequisite: GSTR 110

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

An exploration of the rise of political liberation theology movements and their critiques of and novel contributions to traditional expressions of Christian theology. Focus on understandings of theory and praxis, race, gender, class dimensions of social analysis, and re-constructions of the concepts of Christ and God. Religion Perspective. 1 Course

WST 225 Environmental Justice (AFR/APS/PSJ/SENS)

Offered: Typically alternate years (first offered Spring 2009)

This course is an introduction to the study of Environmental Justice and issues associated with access to, and equitable sharing of, the products of a healthy environment, including clean water and air, healthy food, non-toxic communities, and environmental security. The history of the environmental justice movement beginning with its foundations in the Civil Rights and Environmental movements will be studied, followed by a survey and analysis of current issues of environmental justice, particularly in relation to minority and poor communities in the United States and worldwide. Emphasis is placed on the role of women and African Americans as participants in the environmental justice movement, and the analysis of environmental justice issues in Appalachia. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. NOTE: Noncredit for students who completed SENS 460 in Fall 2005 or Fall 2006. 1 Course

WST 228 Gender in the Modern West, 1750-Present (HIS)

Prerequisite: HIS 101, HIS 102, OR GSTR 210

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered Spring 2009)

This course compares the experiences of women and men to determine how gender roles have contributed to and been shaped by the political and social history of Europe and the United States. The class is arranged topically and chronologically from the Enlightenment through the success of the parity movement in France at the beginning of the 21st century. Topics to be considered include: national revolutions, industrialization and the sexual division of labor, widening political opportunities, socialism, feminism, racism, and warfare. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective and Western History Perspective. 1 Course

WST 237 Women and Literature (ENG)

Offered: Typically alternate years (next offered 2009-2010)

Selected literature by women, focusing on works written in English. Emphasis on historical background and ethnic and cultural influences. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

WST 315 Classic Texts in Women's Studies

Prerequisite: WST 124 or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically Fall Term

A study of the Western version of the Women's Studies canon, with readings spanning the last two centuries in history, philosophy, literature, psychology, sociology, biography, and critical theory. Both old and new classic texts will be paired together to help students develop a coherent narrative about gender and sexuality over the past two hundred years. In addition, the idea of a "canon" will be raised as a problematic issue in a rapidly changing academic field. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

WST 325 Gender and Sex Roles (SOC)

Offered: Typically alternate Spring Terms (next offered 2010)

An examination of the behaviors and expectations of being male and female and the resulting relationships among men and women across the life cycle. Attention is given to current issues of gender roles and socialization, the family, education, employment, social class, and dynamics of social change. 1 Course

WST 366 Cross-Cultural Perspectives on Family (CFS)

Offered: Typically every Fall Term

Study of cultural influences upon family functions, structures, and behaviors, focusing on the recognition and understanding of cultural similarities and differences. Covers topics such as cross cultural interrelationships among economy, government, religion and family; kinship systems and patterns of marital residence; cultural variations in power distribution and sex roles; differences in childrearing patterns; universal shifts from "traditional" families; and variations in roles of aging family members. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective and World Culture (Western) component of the International Perspective. 1 Course

WST 401 Advanced Studies in Feminism

Offered: Typically every Spring Term

An exploration of diverse academic theories and feminist philosophies as these apply to current and historical conditions. This course will interrogate theories of gender, women's subjectivity, social identity, and political agency. African Americans', Appalachians', and Women's Perspective. 1 Course

WST 458 Senior Seminar in Women's Studies

Prerequisites: WST 124 and senior standing; or permission of instructor

Offered: Typically annually (first offered Fall 2008)

A curriculum in Women's Studies offers students an opportunity to enhance their world view by investigating the contributions and experience of girls and women throughout the world. Acknowledging and understanding the status of women in the world is a process that requires practice in the identification and solution of problems. The course explores how feminist theory and methodology provide critical perspectives that lead to transformative social practices. In particular, the Senior Seminar provides students with a more in-depth exploration of Women's Studies that includes relevant personal experiences, theoretical modeling, and direct application of knowledge gained from the program (in either an academic or applied research project). In this course, students actively will determine how their education in Women's Studies will be reflected in their contributions the world. 1 Course
